Dear DAVID,

Your Adult Disability Payment is due for review on 20 December 2025

Your review is not something you need to worry about. Taking part in your review makes sure you're getting the right payments. Your payments will stay the same during your review. Find out more at mygov.scot/review-ready

Use this time to prepare

You'll get your review pack in the post, on or around 20 December 2025. When you get your pack:

- your decision report will be inside, this explains what you were awarded and why
- you have 4 weeks to review the information and tell us about any changes
- you can tell us about changes online, over the phone or by post
- if nothing has changed, you can complete and return a no-change form

Ask us for help if you are worried about:

- getting your pack or completing the form
- taking part in your review or what this could mean for your payments
