Hi, I was a very young boy and dint think I could confide in anyone as a member of staff in the home seen what was going on and didn't do anything about it and it continued and I just rebelled and started running away from the home and I was assaulted physically by another member of staff as he was grooming a girl I was trying to kiss so it seemed impossible to talk or confined in anyone and just tried to put it to the back of my mind and forget but could and found it very hard to have any relationship with anyone . Kind regards David king
