Dear Miss Norma Inglis,

LB dl - 11.11.25 (letter to the patient with a copy sent electronically to the GP)

Your recent CT scan has shown that the abnormality at the top of your right lung has changed a little, although it is now smaller in size. This is a very common finding and we think this may just be a patch of inflammation which is starting to settle. In order to prove this is the case we would follow this up over a period of time to see how it changes. With this in mind I have booked a further CT scan in 3 months time and you will receive an appointment for this separately through the post.

If you would like to speak to us about this, please contact our team on the below number to arrange a telephone appointment. After your CT scan if you have not heard from us within 4 weeks, please contact our team.

Yours sincerely

Dr Laura Barr
