I struggled at school and was placed into care for my educational needs at the age of nine. This decision was made by a panel with Kilmarnock Social Services. I went to Kirkmichael House for approximately three years while I was in primary school, and then I moved to another residential placement, Woodlands, for secondary school. While at Kirkmichael House, one staff member, Patrick Gilchrist, was physically violent toward me daily. I believe he derived some pleasure from this, as he would sometimes laugh while hurting me. He used his fists, kicked me, and caused injuries, including a broken arm for which I had to attend the hospital. During my time at Kirkmichael House, I would wet the bed, and for this I was humiliated and shamed. Patrick would beat me and throw me into a cold shower as punishment. I remember one occasion when I had a stomach bug, and he dragged me from my bed and forced me into a cold shower. I sometimes ran away, and upon returning, I would be beaten. On occasions when the police returned me, I tried to tell them about my treatment, but they ignored me and insisted I go back. I had no privacy while showering and was made to stand in line with other boys while Patrick always entered the room. Patrick was sexually inappropriate toward me almost every day. He would touch me and encourage me to touch him. I lived in a constant state of fear and was too scared to tell anyone. I felt no one would listen to me. This is something I think about every day. I also witnessed the physical and sexual abuse of another boy, Richard Burns, on five or six occasions. I was saddened to learn that he passed away a few years ago due to mental health problems. While at Kirkmichael House, I was often denied visits with my family and remained separated from my siblings.

Your statement for Care setting 2 continued

At Woodlands, I again experienced physical violence from several members of staff, occurring once or twice a week from both day and night staff. I suffered punches, slaps, kicks, and regular strikes to my back with a wooden brush. One particularly traumatic incident involved a staff member strangling me until I turned blue, and another had to intervene. I believe he intended to kill me. I received no medical attention afterward, and I do not remember receiving medical care for any injuries while at Woodlands. After this incident, I ran away at night and reached the train station, where the police caught me. I tried to tell them what had happened, but they took me to the headmaster instead. I attempted to explain the situation to the headmaster but was not listened to and was shouted at for running away. I ran away on multiple occasions simply to escape the abuse, and I was beaten each time I returned. I was regularly punished by having my mouth washed out with carbolic soap. Bedwetting resulted in humiliation, shaming, and being thrown into scalding hot showers. I had no privacy while showering and had to stand in line naked with other children while numerous staff watched.

At Woodlands, I was sometimes confined to an old garage on the school grounds for hours, even though mealtimes, causing me to miss food. Nighttime punishments varied depending on the staff on duty, but I was often forced outside in my pyjamas and made to stand in the cold for long periods on the running green. Several staff members at Woodlands were sexually inappropriate toward me, touching me and encouraging me to touch them daily. One staff member, Mr. Smith, entered my room and got into my bed. I also witnessed the physical and sexual abuse of two other children almost every day. Visits with my family were sometimes denied, and I remained separated from my siblings, missing crucial years together. The staff members I can recall specifically are Mr. Smith and Patrick Gilchrist. My experiences in care have undoubtedly affected my mental health as an adult. I suffer from flashbacks every day and experience poor sleep due to night terrors.
