The next section asks you to write your statement of abuse.

Section 2: Your statement of abuse

Please refer to page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance when filling in this form.

Please make sure that whatever way you provide your statement, you include all the information Redress Scotland needs to make a decision. You can find out more on page 35 of “Help to apply”.

You may find that writing this brings up feelings or memories. If you need support you can speak to a case worker who can refer you to further help:

- Telephone: 0808 175 0808 (freephone)
- International: +44 131 297 6500
Lines are open Monday to Thursday, from 10am to 4pm (except Scottish public holidays)
- Email: apply@redress-scheme.scot

Providing your statement of abuse

In Part 1, you will have provided information about any relevant care settings you were abused in.

In Part 3, you need to provide a statement about your abuse. You can choose how you want to provide your statement. You can complete Q1, Q2, Q3 and Q4. Or you can:

- submit a previous statement (for example, a copy of a statement given to the police)
- write your statement in another format that is better suited to you

How to complete this section

You may have been abused in one relevant care setting, or in several different ones.

For this part of the application form, please provide a statement about each care setting you were abused in.

For example, if you were abused in 3 relevant care settings, please provide 3 statements.

You can do this in any order that makes sense to you.

There are pages for 4 care settings included in this form. If you need more copies, you can:

- contact a case worker
- make a copy yourself
- print additional pages from mygov.scot/redress

Please remember:

- there are no wrong answers - if Redress Scotland needs more or different information, your case worker will get in touch with you and let you know
- do not worry about your spelling
- use as much or as little space as you need to give your information - you can continue on additional pages if you want to

Your statement for Care setting 1

Please read page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance before you begin.

In Part 1, you will have already provided information about the care settings you were abused in. By providing this information here, your case worker can join together the name of the care setting with your statement of abuse.

Q1 | What is the name or location of the relevant care setting you were abused in?

(For example, the name of the care home, or the city or region where you lived in foster care or while boarded out).

An Cala, 21 High Bank Park, Lochgilphead

Do not worry if you are uncertain about dates or time. Please provide your best estimate.

Q2 | When were you abused?
For example: a single date, an age, or an approximate time or time range.

1990-1992

You do not have to provide names, if you cannot remember or do not feel comfortable doing so. If you do provide a name it will be passed to Police Scotland.

Q3 | Who was involved in your abuse?
For example: a member of staff, a peer or someone outside the care setting.

The information you provide will be used by Redress Scotland to make a decision about your application. Redress Scotland will use the “Assessment framework” to help them do this, available on gov.scot. Please be aware that it contains graphic descriptions of abuse.

Q4 | On the next page, please provide as much information as you can about:

- the abuse you experienced while living in this care setting
- what life was like for you during this time
- how the people responsible for your care and welfare failed to carry out that duty (within or beyond your care setting)

You can continue on additional pages if you need to.

Please read page 36 of “Help to apply” to find out more about what information you may want to include.

When I moved into the care home, I was around thirteen years old. I already had my own struggles, but instead of receiving the support and understanding I desperately needed, I often felt dismissed and mistreated. The staff didn't treat me like a young person who needed guidance—they treated me like a problem they didn't want to deal with. I felt ostracized, pushed to the edges, and made to believe that my difficulties were an inconvenience rather than something deserving of care. Looking back, that lack of compassion cut deeply. It made me feel small, unwanted, and constantly on edge.

During my time there, I witnessed things no child should ever have to see. I remember watching someone being pulled out of bed by staff—dragged, handled roughly, and treated with a level of aggression that terrified me. I saw people being abused right in front of me, and each time it happened, I felt a mix of fear, helplessness, and disbelief. One incident that has stayed with me was seeing someone get pushed down the stairs. It wasn't an accident; it was deliberate. I saw the staff member trip him and then deny it as if nothing had happened. That moment shattered any remaining trust I had in the adults who were supposed to protect us.

Even when I tried to report what I saw to the head social worker, nothing changed. It felt like my voice didn't matter, like the truth was something they didn't want to hear. That sense of being ignored and silenced added another layer of emotional pain. It made me feel invisible and powerless, trapped in a place where the people in charge could do whatever they wanted without consequence.

I wasn't just a witness—I was a target too. The staff used to restrain me whenever I didn't do exactly what they said. It wasn't about safety; it was about control. They would restrain me and verbally abuse me, making me feel ashamed, frightened, and completely alone. Every time it happened, it chipped away at my sense of self-worth. I started to believe that maybe I really was the problem, even though deep down I knew I was just a child trying to cope.

These experiences didn't stay in the past. They followed me into adulthood. I still struggle with my mental health, and I've been diagnosed with Borderline Personality Disorder and ADHD. The trauma from those years didn't just disappear—it shaped the way I see myself and the world. The emotional scars are still there, and I'm still learning how to heal from everything I went through.
