I remember arriving and immediately feeling a complete lack of empathy. I was scared and emotional, and instead of being supported, I was flung straight into the deep end. From the very beginning, the staff caused me stress. On my first day, they screamed at me, pushed me around, and beat me. I had no time to adjust or understand what was happening—I was simply thrown into a terrifying situation without any care or protection.

On arrival, I was put into a cell with an older inmate. From that moment on, I was subjected to daily physical abuse. He beat me black and blue every single day. I was used as a punch bag, constantly bullied and targeted. I was just a young boy with no one to help me or stand up for me. I was already struggling with my mental and physical health, and the pain I was experiencing only made everything worse.

The inmate would punch and kick me repeatedly, and he would encourage other inmates to join in by calling me names and bullying me. I was completely isolated and powerless. The staff allowed all of this to happen. They did nothing to protect me—in fact, they were part of the abuse themselves.

The staff would come into my cell and beat me as well, sometimes alongside the inmate. I lived in constant fear, 24 hours a day. There was never a moment where I felt safe. They would take my food, leaving me hungry and weak, and they would continue to bully and pick on me. I was beaten with cutlery and other objects. I was always starving, always scared, and I became a complete nervous wreck.

The worst part of my experience was that I was specifically targeted and sexually abused on a daily basis by both the staff and the inmate. I had no way to escape this. My body was in constant pain, and I was forced to endure this ongoing abuse without any protection or support. This has had a devastating and lasting impact on me.

This experience has very badly affected my mental health. The trauma I went through during those months has stayed with me for the rest of my life. It changed me completely. Even now, I continue to suffer from severe mental health issues as a result of what I endured. My sense of safety, trust in others, and ability to live a normal life have all been deeply damaged. That period of my life has left permanent scars, and I am still living with the consequences every day.

Your statement for Care setting 2 continued

I was then taken and placed in Long Rig End, and the abuse continued immediately. From the moment I arrived, the staff were again horrible, very nasty, and clear bullies. I was singled out and made a target straight away. On arrival, they beat me again. I was treated like an animal, with no care, dignity, or protection.

Once again, I was doubled up with an older inmate, and he was the worst of them all. He made my life hell every single day. He would slap me, call me names, and beat me constantly. There was no escape from it. I was living in fear at all times, knowing that at any moment I could be attacked again.

They would drag me out of bed while I was sleeping and beat me. I remember being pulled from my bunk, my mattress dragged from the top bunk, and being punched and beaten while I was still half asleep and completely defenceless. Even when I tried to stay in bed to avoid attention, they would kick and punch the mattress from the bottom bunk. It felt like there was no safe place, not even when I was trying to rest. The staff would come in, laugh at what was happening, and even help him beat me. That made it even worse, knowing the people who were supposed to protect me were joining in.

Most days, my food was taken from me again. I was left hungry, weak, and in constant pain. My body was covered in bruises—I was black and blue most of the time. Over time, I began to lose all hope. I felt completely broken and started to feel suicidal because I couldn't see any way out of what I was going through.

This was also where the sexual abuse continued and became even worse. It was happening daily, carried out by both the inmate and staff. Sometimes it happened at the same time as the physical beatings, so there were moments when the abuse felt like it would never end. I felt completely powerless and trapped in my own body, which was in constant pain. I didn't want to keep feeling like that anymore. I felt very badly victimised and targeted, as if I had been singled out for this treatment.

I was not allowed any family visits, which made everything even harder. I had no contact with anyone on the outside, no support, and no one I could turn to. I couldn't cry openly or ask for help. I was completely isolated and alone with what was happening to me.

They would also target me in the showers, where the sexual abuse continued. Even basic things like washing were not safe. I was constantly being picked on and humiliated. It felt like every part of my life had been taken from me, and everything I went through there has stayed with me.

This has affected me my whole life. I have struggled deeply to build relationships and to trust people. I live with anxiety, PTSD, and depression as a direct result of what I experienced. Over the last five years, this trauma has come back very strongly, and I have found it extremely difficult to cope. I try to forget what happened, but it is always there in the back of my mind. Most importantly, what I went through has had a devastating impact on my life, and I feel that it has ruined it in many ways.
