The next section asks you to write your statement of abuse.

Section 2: Your statement of abuse

Please refer to page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance when filling in this form.

Please make sure that whatever way you provide your statement, you include all the information Redress Scotland needs to make a decision. You can find out more on page 35 of “Help to apply”.

You may find that writing this brings up feelings or memories. If you need support you can speak to a case worker who can refer you to further help:

- Telephone: 0808 175 0808 (freephone)
- International: +44 131 297 6500
Lines are open Monday to Thursday, from 10am to 4pm (except Scottish public holidays)
- Email: apply@redress-scheme.scot

Providing your statement of abuse

In Part 1, you will have provided information about any relevant care settings you were abused in.

In Part 3, you need to provide a statement about your abuse. You can choose how you want to provide your statement. You can complete Q1, Q2, Q3 and Q4. Or you can:

- submit a previous statement (for example, a copy of a statement given to the police)
- write your statement in another format that is better suited to you

How to complete this section

You may have been abused in one relevant care setting, or in several different ones.

For this part of the application form, please provide a statement about each care setting you were abused in.

For example, if you were abused in 3 relevant care settings, please provide 3 statements.

You can do this in any order that makes sense to you.

There are pages for 4 care settings included in this form. If you need more copies, you can:

- contact a case worker
- make a copy yourself
- print additional pages from mygov.scot/redress

Please remember:

- there are no wrong answers - if Redress Scotland needs more or different information, your case worker will get in touch with you and let you know
- do not worry about your spelling
- use as much or as little space as you need to give your information - you can continue on additional pages if you want to

Your statement for Care setting 1

Please read page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance before you begin.

In Part 1, you will have already provided information about the care settings you were abused in. By providing this information here, your case worker can join together the name of the care setting with your statement of abuse.

Q1 | What is the name or location of the relevant care setting you were abused in?

(For example, the name of the care home, or the city or region where you lived in foster care or while boarded out).

Coblehaugh Children's Home School Rd, Inverurie AB51 3XD

Do not worry if you are uncertain about dates or time. Please provide your best estimate.

Q2 | When were you abused?

For example: a single date, an age, or an approximate time or time range.

1987-1988

You do not have to provide names, if you cannot remember or do not feel comfortable doing so. If you do provide a name it will be passed to Police Scotland.

Q3 | Who was involved in your abuse?

For example: a member of staff, a peer or someone outside the care setting.

The information you provide will be used by Redress Scotland to make a decision about your application. Redress Scotland will use the “Assessment framework” to help them do this, available on gov.scot. Please be aware that it contains graphic descriptions of abuse.

Q4 | On the next page, please provide as much information as you can about:

- the abuse you experienced while living in this care setting
- what life was like for you during this time
- how the people responsible for your care and welfare failed to carry out that duty (within or beyond your care setting)

You can continue on additional pages if you need to.

Please read page 36 of “Help to apply” to find out more about what information you may want to include.

When I was placed at Coblehaugh Children's Home on School Road in Inverurie, AB51 3XD, I thought I was finally stepping into a place where I could breathe. I had been removed from a violent environment, and everyone told me this move was for my safety. For a moment, I believed them. I arrived bruised, exhausted, and desperate for stability. I wanted to feel protected. I wanted to feel like someone finally cared.

But the reality inside that home was nothing like what I had been promised. I would wake up each morning already tense, already bracing myself for what the day would bring. The other children were cruel from the start. They called me horrible names, mocked me, and made me feel like I didn't belong. Every time I tried to speak, they would shut me down. When I talked about my ambitions or the things I hoped for, they laughed in my face and told me I would never amount to anything. Their words cut deeper than they probably realised, and over time I started to believe them.

The staff were supposed to be the adults I could rely on, but instead they made everything worse. I had come in already hurt, already carrying the weight of what I'd survived, but they didn't treat me with care or understanding. Some of them crossed boundaries that should never be crossed. Others used physical force in ways that left me feeling terrified and powerless. There were times when staff members would pin my face to the carpet, press their knees into me, and hold me down. It happened so often that it became part of my daily life. I was supposed to be safe there, yet I was being mistreated by the very people who were meant to protect me.

Even the social workers who were assigned to help me didn't know how to handle what I had been through. Some behaved in ways that made me deeply uncomfortable. Three of them even quit, saying that I had "traumatized" them because of my past. Instead of supporting me, they made me feel like a burden, like my pain was something I had done wrong.

The emotional toll was overwhelming. I would wake up some mornings feeling so hopeless that I didn't want to keep going. I felt trapped between the violence I had been removed from and the cruelty I was now surrounded by. I didn't feel safe in the children's home. I didn't feel believed. I didn't feel seen. I felt abandoned by the very systems that were supposed to protect me.

The nightmares started then, and they've never fully gone away. Even now, I still wake up with the memories of those years haunting me. I still hear the laughter when I tried to speak. I still feel the sting of being told I would never be anything. I still carry the fear of being hurt by people who were supposed to care.

Looking back, I can see how deeply I was failed. Social services kept placing me in dangerous environments, and each time it chipped away at my trust a little more. I was a child who needed safety, compassion, and stability.

Instead, I was met with neglect, cruelty, and abuse. I survived it, but it left marks that don't fade easily.

I still feel let down by the authorities and the children's home. I deserved better. Every child does.

Your statement for Care setting 2
