I was only very young when I lived there, around five years old, and it was an awful experience. The woman who cared for me was a vegetarian, and she wouldn't allow me to eat meat at all. For the few years that I stayed there, this made life extremely difficult. I didn't have any choice in what I ate, and it made me feel controlled and restricted at an age where I didn't understand why I was being treated that way. It was a horrible experience for a child to go through.

She kept me living in constant fear. I was never allowed to leave the house, and she would wrap me in bubble wrap and keep me locked in my room most of the time. I didn't have any freedom, and I didn't feel like a normal child. I felt isolated, trapped, and scared of doing anything wrong because I never knew how she would react.

She also had four cats, and they completely ran the house. They would pee everywhere, and the whole place smelled terrible. Because of that, I used to smell as well, and it made me feel embarrassed and ashamed. The cats would also attack me, and I ended up with scratches on my arms. I still have some of those marks today. I was too scared to say anything to her because I knew she would flip and defend the cats instead of listening to me. I felt like my safety didn't matter.

She would also abuse me physically. If I spoke back or did something she didn't like, she would hit me. Living with that constant threat made me anxious and frightened all the time. I didn't feel protected or cared for — I felt like I was always waiting for the next thing to go wrong.

It wasn't until a teacher noticed the scratches on my arms that things finally started to get reported. That was the first time anyone realised something was wrong. Once the teacher raised concerns, things slowly began to be looked into, and it was the beginning of people finally noticing what I had been going through.

She was looking after me for a while, she was also looking after a little boy as well he would of been going through the same stuff as me.
