During my time in foster care with Janis and Liston Walker, life was extremely difficult. Before being placed with them, I had only been in a temporary care home for about a week or two, so I didn't really understand how I should have been treated or what proper foster care was supposed to look like. Looking back now, I realise just how wrong and neglectful the situation was.

We were barely allowed inside the house. Most of the time, we were left outside to play and fend for ourselves, regardless of the weather or how we were feeling. There was no sense of being cared for or looked after. She never spent money on us. I remember only ever receiving one coat and one pair of shoes during the entire time I lived there. Our clothes were tattered and torn, and nothing was ever replaced. We didn't receive any money for toiletries, shower gel, sanitary towels, or even basic essentials. We didn't get pocket money either. It felt like we were an inconvenience rather than children who needed support.

Instead of using the money meant for our care, she spent it on her own family. They would go on family trips while we were locked out of the house for days at a time with no money and no food. We were left to starve and freeze, and there was absolutely no concern for our wellbeing. At one point, there were around six of us being fostered by her, and we were treated more like slaves or prisoners than children. We had to cook our own meals, and the only things we were allowed to make were frozen chips and sausages. Meanwhile, she cooked premium steaks and big dinners for the dogs. It was degrading and made me feel completely worthless.

The physical abuse was just as bad. She would beat us, strip us, and hit us in the shower. I remember how humiliating and frightening it was. Speaking up wasn't an option. Whenever we tried to say something or stand up for ourselves, she would beat us again. There was no safety, no comfort, and no adult we could trust.

They were adding extensions to the house and taking their family on holidays using the money that should have been spent on looking after us. We didn't even get bus fares. I remember losing some money once, and instead of helping me or even listening, they accused me of stealing and beat me up. It was completely unfair and left me feeling scared and helpless.

All of this has had a really bad and lasting effect on my mental health. The neglect, the physical abuse, the emotional cruelty, and the constant feeling of being unwanted and uncared for have stayed with me. My time with Janis and Liston Walker was supposed to be a safe place, but instead it became one of the most damaging experiences of my life.
