moved to Rimpleton in Glenrothes, where I stayed on and off for about a year, often for months at a time. While there, I was slapped repeatedly by the nightwatchman, who once came into my room, held a pillow over my face, and told me he could end me. A driver who worked at the home beat me up in the gym hall, dragged me to a cell, and left me there for a week in an empty room with only a mattress on the floor. He brought me food but deliberately waited until it was cold before giving it to me, and I had to knock on the door to be let out to wash. I could see the other children through the hatch, but I had no visits and never saw my family during that time, which was soul-destroying.

I was then moved to Geilsland in Beith, where I spent three years and suffered sexual abuse. The nightwatchman would come into the dormitory at night, tell stories, and walk around with his hands down his trousers, and I am sure he was masturbating. He came to my bed, put his hands down my pyjamas, and pretended he was washing me because I wet the bed from nerves, using a cloth but touching me inappropriately, later forcing me to touch him. I was terrified and too scared to say anything. One night when I denied wetting the bed, he tried to put his hand down my trousers, and when I stopped him, he grabbed me by the throat and choked me. This abuse continued for about a year and a half. At Geilsland, I was housed with boys as old as seventeen, which I felt was unsafe at my age, and I was picked on and beaten by older boys while staff did nothing to help. I was subjected to cold showers whenever I wet the bed, thrown under freezing water until I was numb. The home was run like a military camp, with strict rules about making beds and folding clothes, and my home leaves depended on following these rules. I tried to run away several times but was always caught. My time in care has affected me massively; I turned to drugs to cope with the trauma, and I continue to suffer with my mental health every day.
