Communication to Primary Care

Dear Doctor,

Diagnosis: COVID-19 pneumonitis

Follow-up: None

Changes to meds: None

William Tarbett was admitted to the Covid assessment unit on 08/07/21 with worsening breathlessness, a dry cough and chest pain having tested positive for COVID-19 on 25/06/21. He required 60% of oxygen support on admission, and a CXR showed changes consistent with Covid pneumonitis. The rest of his blood tests including a D-dimer were of nil concern. He was commenced on dexamethasone as an inpatient, and his insulin regime was adjusted accordingly.

He has recovered well on the ward and has now been weaned off oxygen. We have stopped his dexamethasone and he is back on his usual insulin regime, with advice to keep a close and regular eye on his blood sugars. As he is keen for home and looks quite well, the team are happy to discharge him home. He has been given worsening advice and knows to seek urgent medical help if he feels more unwell at any point. He has also been given an oxygen saturations probe and will be contacted daily by the team for a week to monitor his recovery.

Thank you very much for your ongoing care. Please get back in touch if you have any further queries.

Regards,
 Ward 42 team

Dear Dr Donald

William Tarbett, The Health Centre, Po Box 21744, Falkirk, FK1 9FL DOB: 09/07/1991

The above patient was seen in the Ophthalmology Department on 26/03/2026.
Our findings were as follows:

Consultant: Dr M El-Abiary

Diagnosis:

Vitreous cavity haemorrhage with high intraocular pressure secondary to proliferative diabetic retinopathy

Background:

Bilateral proliferative diabetic retinopathy
Right PVP + laser + Eylea November 2025 under GA

Visual Acuity:

Right perception of light
Left 6/18

Management:

IVT today + AC paracentesis
G Exocin 4 times a day + Cosopt bd right eye until next review
For left eye surgery 13/04/2026 under GA

Comment:

Mr Tarbett was seen in the Diabetic Eye Clinic today. He has an ongoing vitreous cavity haemorrhage in his right eye with a raised pressure of 44mmHg. We have treated this with AC paracentesis and IVT in the Clinic today. His left eye shows significant proliferative diabetic retinopathy and Dr El-Abiary has listed him for left eye vitrectomy on 13th April under GA.

Kind regards

Yours sincerely

Dear Dr El-Abiary

William Tarbett, Scottish Prison Service, H M Prison Perth, 3 Edinburgh Road, Perth, Perthshire, PH2 8AT DOB: 09/07/1991

The above patient was seen in the Ophthalmology Department on 15/02/2026.
Our findings were as follows:

Consultant: Dr. O. Kousha

Intraocular Pressure:
Right 18mmHg
Left 19mmHg

Comments:

I had seen this gentleman out of hours on 15th February 2026 and he presented from Prison with increase in floaters for the last 3-4 days and has current vision of hand movement in the right, and 6/24 pinholing to 6/12 in the left with his glasses. His pressures are as above.

On examination I could see fine new vessels at the iris in the right eye which appeared to be inactive and is possibly likely regressed new vessels in the iris in the left eye. There is no fundal view in the right eye but he does have light projections in all quadrants and ultrasound shows no tears or gross retinal detachments. The left eye does show new vascularisation and tractional changes which look relatively similar to his previous Optos in December 2025. I have advised him that he may need injections or this may settle down as time goes on. He tells me that he has already had this discussion with yourself.

I have asked for a Diabetic Clinic appointment in 4 weeks time to reassess things. He does notably get released from Prison in the first week of April but potentially this could be a bit earlier with good behaviour etc.

Yours sincerely

Dear Dr Donald

William Tarbett, 10A Bonnethill Court, Dundee, Angus, DD3 7BA DOB: 09/07/1991

The above patient was seen in the Ophthalmology Department on 23/12/2025
Our findings were as follows:

Consultant: Dr M El-Abiary

Visual Acuity:

1. Right eye hand movements
2. Left eye counting fingers, improving to 6/36 with pinhole

Diagnoses:

1. Right diabetic vitrectomy with delamination in November 2025
2. Left indirect laser with active proliferative disease
3. Right vitreous cavity haemorrhage

Comment:

I reviewed Mr Tarbett in the clinic today. Unfortunately, the vision in the right eye has not picked up yet because he has a vitreous cavity haemorrhage. An ultrasound confirms that the retina is flat. As he is only 1 month post-op, I recommend we observe this for now, but monitor closely. I will review him in another month. If there is no evidence that things are clearing, then I will arrange an injection in the first instance. However, I have advised that he may require another operation with a washout in the right eye. With regards to the left eye, he has had some good initial laser, but he still has active proliferative disease, although it is little bit less than before. We will monitor this closely and I have advised him that he will probably need an operation to this left eye also and I would prefer to try and do this before it deteriorates.

Yours sincerely

Dear Dr Fleming

William Tarbett, 10A Bonnethill Court, Dundee, Angus, DD3 7BA DOB: 09/07/1991

Consultant: Dr M El-Abiary

This patient attended the Laser Clinic today having been found to have proliferative diabetic retinopathy by his optician and listed directly for panretinal photocoagulation. Subjectively, he has been aware of worsening vision and has evidence of diabetic maculopathy, more in the right eye.

Panretinal photocoagulation was attempted in the right eye but could not be completed and only a few burns were applied to the left as the patient felt unwell and was vomiting, and was unable to continue. He will be reappointed to the Laser Clinic very shortly for further laser treatment. I would be grateful if you could check that arrangements are in place for his glycemic control to be addressed for this.

Description: Needs review

Comment: Dear Colleague

This young man is under the Dundee Diabetes Clinic pathway. He has recently been released from prison where they stopped his ozempic and he did not have his oral meds for nearly one month. He had a recent hba1c at a pre anaesthetic assessment which was 85. I have restarted him on his ozempic and he is taking his gliclazide and metformin. His sugar rose yesterday but it transpires he was fasting for his operation and omitted his morning medicines. He has also been commenced on an ACE for his blood pressure.

Kind Regards

D Whitton

Description: Diabetes.

Comment: Dear Doctor

I would be very grateful for your review in clinic of this 32 year old patient who was diagnosed with diabetes in 2014. At the time it was thought to be type 2 diabetes and while he was on insulin initially I understand that he then was reduced to Metformin. Unfortunately he doesn't like taking tablets and has not been complying with his Metformin for some time. His most recent Hba1c is 113 and he has now stated that he would prefer to go back to insulin as he felt that was easier to control things. He doesn't drive. I have asked him to drop into the drop-in clinic at Ninewells but I would be very grateful for your formal review in clinic as he has a history of not attending our diabetic review clinics for many years. Many thanks.

Yours sincerely

Dr P Law

CLINICAL INFORMATIONHistory of presenting complaint / examination findings / investigation results*Presenting complaint

Description: 1 cm size cyst on right ear lobe at site of old piercing.

Comment: This gentleman is concerned that a cyst, which he has been aware of on his ear lobe for some time, has recently begun to grow in size.

It feels quite firm and hard, there was no evidence of any heat or exudate to suggest infection as its at the site of an old piercing. He is adamant there is no foreign body such as an earring back in there as he only ever uses hoop earrings without butterflies. He is concerned that it is increasingly tender and large and has requested, if possible, removal. I have given him a course of antibiotics in case it is an infected sebaceous cyst but it is not typical of this. I didn't take a photograph as it is not immediately obvious until you actually palpate the ear lobe that it is there. I would therefore be grateful if you could arrange to see him in clinic with a view to removal.

Yours sincerely

Dr D Dorward

Description: Obesity. Type 2 diabetes.

Comment: I would be grateful if you could consider sending William a further appointment for assessment. He has a diagnosis of Type 2 diabetes but is poorly compliant with all medication. He failed to attend the Ninewells diabetes centre for review despite being started on insulin earlier this year. I have managed to catch him in the practice and have repeated his bloods which revealed an HbA1C of 123. He has an appointment to return to see me next week to discuss his compliance and insulin dose adjustment. His current weight is 120kgs with a BMI of 38.3. I have made it clear to William that his current diabetes management and weight present a considerable risk to his future health and life expectancy. I can only hope that he will recognise this and engage with the health services. Thank you in anticipation.

Description: Type 2 diabetes poor control.

Comment: Unfortunately William has not engaged with the diabetes service in relation to his Type 2 diabetes which is poorly controlled. We eventually caught up with him in the practice recently. It appears he had stopped all his medication and is still taking Humulin I at a dose of 12 units daily. This is clearly inadequate as his HbA1C is 123. I have arranged review next week. I made it clear to him that his quality and quantity of life will be reduced as a consequence of his current management of his diabetes.

I have also made re-referral to the weight management services as he is currently 121kgs with a BMI of 38.3. Thank you in anticipation.

Description: Please see below

Comment: Dear Doctor

THIS GENTLEMAN HAD AN APPOINTMENT AT PERTH BUT FAILED TO ATTEND. PERTH HAVE WRITTEN BACK TO US ASKING IF HE COULD BE SEEN URGENTLY AT NINEWELLS

This 23 year old man presented recently with balanitis and urinary frequency. Bloods showed a raised random glucose of 19.2 and a follow up fasting was 16.1 with an HbA1 of 115 and, interestingly, a TSH of 7.07. He is obese with a weight of 113 kilograms and a BMI of 35.6 and has a strong family history of, I think mainly, type 2 diabetes. Capillary blood ketone levels were 0.1 with no urinary keytones. He does not drive or currently work. We have enlisted him for TDEP and sent further bloods for both thyroid screen and anti-gad anti-bodies and commenced him on Levothyroxine 25 mg once daily and Glucalazide 80 mg once daily to begin to treat his 2 issues but in particular in view of his very young age, I would be most grateful for your further input and assessment.

With many thanks.

Yours sincerely

Dr A Emslie-Smith

Description: ALCOHOL EXCESS

Comment: Thank you for reviewing this 22 year old gentleman who presented today along with his mother stating that since the death of his aunt last year he has been drinking to excess. He tells me he drinks around 12 cans of beer and 6 litres of cider per day but sometimes it can be more. His friends generally bring alcohol to him while he remains at home.

He does not work at present and he has very little motivation to the extent that his mum physically had to pull him out of bed to bring him to the surgery today. He has recently been diagnosed with gout and this has hampered him quite significantly. We had a full and frank discussion regarding gout and how important it is for him to reduce his alcohol intake and try and lose some weight. I do think he is quite depressed however he was not really keen to consider antidepressants at the present time. However, he has agreed that he will engage with the TAPS service.

I explained it is important for him to not completely stop drinking at this time but to cut down significantly.

Many thanks for your assessment.

DR M A MACLEAN (GP)

Description: Please see below.

Comment: Dear Doctor

This 23 year old man presented recently with balanitis and urinary frequency. Bloods showed a raised random glucose of 19.2 and a follow up fasting was 16.1 with an HbA1c of 11.5 and, interestingly, a TSH of 7.07. He is obese with a weight of 113 kilograms and a BMI of 35.6 and has a strong family history of, I think mainly, type 2 diabetes. Capillary blood ketone levels were 0.1 with no urinary ketones. He does not drive or currently work. We have enlisted him for TDEP and sent further bloods for both thyroid screen and anti-gad anti-bodies and commenced him on Levothyroxine 25 mg once daily and Gliclazide 80 mg once daily to begin to treat his 2 issues but in particular in view of his very young age, I would be most grateful for your further input and assessment.

With many thanks.

Yours sincerely

Dr A Emslie-Smith

02/09/2022	Seen by practice nurse	returns for review with results, brought girlfriend with him to the appointment also, explained further decline in hbA1c, but with real efforts from him to improve diet and lifestyle, and restarting medication, he can absolutely improve this. Explored diet with him, had a mcdonalds breakfast this morning, usually eats filled rolls at lunchtime and evening meal is often a take away, had a chinese last night. Have said this is very excessive and unhealthy, suggests he limit a take away to once a week at the weekend, and swap some of his carb rich meals for more protein and veg/salads, asked him re activity levels, does no exercise, suggested he start taking a walk with his girlfriend, she said she is too busy with work (HCA in NW) reminded both of them that nobody is ever too busy to do a little exercise, it is easy to make excuses but everyone can and should find the time, so have encouraged them to support each other with this. Restart Metformin, was previously on max dose 2 G per day, aim to work up to that with slow titration initially so as not to cause GI upset, restart statin also as chol above target, I look forward to seeing an improvement in his results in a few months

26/08/2022	Recall on 26/12/2022 for Diabetic annual review with Ms Fiona Cosgrove	Status:Complete
Nice to meet Billy, he is a frequent non attender to his appointments and very poor at engaging. I was glad he came today as I would really like to support him in being well controlled. He was very young when diagnosed with type 2 diabetes, he tells me his dad was diabetic, he died suddenly 3 years ago from M1 at work, admits he has not taken care of himself since and wishes to change that, hbA1c was last checked in March, 74 at that time, updated today so I can sort a management plan for him appropriately. was on insulin and metformin but has not had either for over a year, reassured he will likely be managed on oral therapy as last hbA1c very manageable wwith tablets, will bring girlfriend to next weeks appointment so we can go over results together and dscuss lifestyle improvements also, says hs gf has been cooking healthy meals for him, got a fright when optician told him he has retinopathy as a result of his poorly controlled diabetes so I think he will try hard to make changes now, BP excellent, overweight, but will discuss lifestyle next week

Dear Doctor,

Re: William Taylor, D.O.B. 08.07.91 0351, 34 Fintona Mill, Dundee DD4 9DU

This child, who is in care, is causing problems with the other children in Foster Care. He has been touching the other boys inappropriately and having marked behavioural problems. He is aggressive and violent and is having difficulties at school. He has been referred to an Educational Psychologist by the school and I think he has again. He continues to have problems with fine motor skills, having a difficulty with drawing from the start and opening caters.

Part of the problem is that he includes meanings in 1991.

I would be grateful for your assessment on the best way to support this child.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. John W. Ramsay

Re - William TARBETT 090791 0351 c/o McMaster, 25 Napier Drive, Dundee

Thank you for this referral. William was seen today accompanied by his foster-mother.

He had rhinitis about two weeks ago and as you say has a past history of meningitis.

On examination both tympanic membranes are slightly pink peripherally. Pure tone audiometry was within normal limits in the 250 to 4,000 frequency range bilaterally. Tympanograms are also normal.

William has been discharged.

Yours sincerely

Dear Mr Meade

re William Tarbett, c/o McMaster, 25 Napier Drive, Dundee, DOB 09/07/91

I would be very grateful if you could arrange for an assessment of this child as soon as possible.

He is due to start Primary 1 at St Clements, but I have concerns about his ability to manage unsupported in a mainstream class.

He is currently being fostered with the McMaster family but I recently saw him for a medical with a view to permanence. He is very immature and can be difficult to manage. He has suffered much abuse while in his parents care and can show many disturbing behaviour patterns including violence, aggression and sexualised behaviour - although incidents of the last have decreased.

Physically he is healthy. He is described as being 'lazy' and not agile, and he was so uncooperative when I saw him that it was impossible to make a true assessment. His fine motor skills appear delayed - his drawing is very poor, he is reluctant to use cutlery, preferring to use his fingers and seems to struggle dressing himself - on the whole he seems to avoid tasks involving manipulative skills but there may well be a behavioural element here too.

Verbally he presents as an able child but his concentration and attention span seemed poor. He displays attention seeking behaviour with temper tantrums if he is thwarted. He seems to need a lot of individual attention, but with appropriate support and care he can be a very affectionate and rewarding child.

Dear Dr. Clark,

William Archer, (9/7/91)
c/ 9/10 Brangle Terrace, Tullibody.

Admitted 9/1/92 - Discharged 13/1/92 - Diagnosis: Bronchiolitis

This six-months-old infant was admitted with a day's history of wheeze, poor feeding and vomiting. He had had a recent upper respiratory infection. His parents were at present living apart and he had been treated for meningitis in Ninewells Hospital at the age of three weeks.

On admission, he had a moist cough and mild generalised wheeze, but was not showing evidence of significant respiratory distress. Pharyngeal secretions were positive for respiratory syncytial virus by immunofluorescence.

He was nursed for a few days and a trial of Atrovent therapy was unhelpful. He eventually improved and was fit for discharge.

William Tarbrett, 54 Whitfield Loan, Dundee

This child has unfortunately now failed to attend the Paediatric Out-Patient Clinic on two separate occasions. I trust this reflects his wellbeing.

You will be aware that he also defaulted from follow-up at the Audiology Department.

No further appointment has been sent although we would of course be happy to see him again at your request.
