01.02.96 Telephone call to Mr Tarbett	1. Informing Mr Tarbett that [REDACTED] and William will be going for respite, separately, this weekend. Mr Tarbett noted that he objects to the boys having so many moves - that he feels this is damaging to them. 2. Arranged possible meeting with Mr Tarbett and M Leslie for 12th or 13th February - I will confirm date/time by phone on 5.2.96.
01.02.96 pm Telephone call to [REDACTED]	Confirmed arrangements for respite weekend. [REDACTED] has already told the boys, emphasising that it will give everyone a break, and that includes her own sons who are also "going away" to their aunts.
02.02.96 Telephone from Mr Tarbett to Anne Partington, Senior Social Worker	From Mr Tarbett to Phillip McGill taken by Senior Social Worker in Phillip's absence. Mr Tarbett chiefly wanted to complain about not receiving information in writing about William and [REDACTED] respite this weekend. He asked that this information go to his solicitor. He was not happy about a further move. I explained we want to make regular plans for respite so that the children are prepared and do not find it disruptive. He complained about late notification of access again this week. I explained the Social Workers hoped to meet with him to plan a timetable in advance for access. Mr Tarbett spoke at length about past events. Comments of significance were that he has a "pal" who lives a few doors away from the current foster home of [REDACTED] and William and tells him everything that is going on. He also spoke about previously being awarded custody and access through the Sheriff Court. If this is true it may give him parental rights. A Partington

05.02.96 Telephone call by Mr Tarbett to Senior Social Worker, Anne Partington	Mr Tarbett to Senior Social Worker in absence of Phillip or Margaret. He had heard that (1) Linda Archer had access in McDonald's last week. He wants the same. (2) He had heard Maureen Petrie to be taking over access and he is objecting because he previously had an argument with her. I advised him both matters could be discussed with Phillip and Margaret when they meet with him. He said his solicitor would write to us regarding (2). Anne Partington
05.02.96 Home visit to [REDACTED] and William with Mr Barbour	Introducing Mr Barbour, Volunteer Driver, to [REDACTED] and William.
07.02.96 Telephone call from Mr Tarbett	1. Mr Tarbett reporting that Linda Archer is at his home, having been involved in a violent fight with another female at his home. Mr Tarbett stated that Lynne Cameron (Manager) had advised him to report any contact between Linda Archer and himself. I advised Mr Tarbett I felt this info not directly relevant to self but for Social Worker involved in casework for [REDACTED] (where plan is to rehabilitate [REDACTED] to Ms Archer as Mr Tarbett is aware). Mr Tarbett said he had contacted M Selfridge as well. 2. Mr Tarbett said that today he had been fined £200 for an offence in relation to his conduct with Social Work staff - which he believes to be injustice. Mr Tarbett said he was unsure about meeting with us and asked if he could bring along his solicitor. I advised this would be fine. 3. I informed Mr Tarbett we would be able to offer him access to the children on 15.2.96 or 29.2.96, and every 4 weeks thereafter either date. Mr Tarbett will inform us at our meeting on 12.2.96 of his preference.
07.02.96 Telephone call to Mr [REDACTED] re [REDACTED] behaviour over weekend.	Mr [REDACTED] reported that weekend had gone fairly well, though there was one particularly worrying incident on Sunday 6th when, whilst at Camperdown Park, [REDACTED] ran away and could not be found - eventually [REDACTED] discovered having returned to car park.

23.02.96 Detail Record from Fiona Sinclair, from 14/2/96 noting Fiona's discussion with Lilybank and their indication that William's	behaviour has been much poorer recently, not in a sexualised way; and that Mr Tarbett has not been seen at the centre recently (as William reported to Fiona at a recent individual session).

26.02.96 Visit to St Clement's, meeting with Mrs Donnelly, [REDACTED] class teacher, regarding his performance/behaviour at school	See Detail Record.
27.02.96 Telephone call from Mrs [REDACTED] re their request that the boys go for respite weekend 9/10 March	[REDACTED] said that she and [REDACTED] had spoken following our discussion about respite yesterday, and they are both concerned that Joyce and I were telling them that we would not provide respite carer. [REDACTED] said she was promised monthly respite and asked a month ago re the forthcoming weekend. I explained that Joyce and I had not refused to provide respite, but had wanted to express our concerns about the effects on the boys, and to see if an alternative could be organised using family/friends. I assured [REDACTED] that since she and [REDACTED] were quite definite about their wish for respite we would respect that and would arrange it, and that we recognised that we must consider their needs if we are to support them in looking after the boys, otherwise they may decide that they cannot continue with the placement. [REDACTED] agreed that this was an issue which, although recognising its negative effects on the boys, was one which she and [REDACTED] considered necessary for their continuing with the placement. [REDACTED] agreed that they would try to support the boys with the respite by taking them to visit the carers so that the boys saw that [REDACTED] were clearly arranging for them to stay away and then return to their care.
28.02.96 Telephone call to [REDACTED] following up our telephone call yesterday	[REDACTED] said that she and [REDACTED] now felt better about things after hearing my assurance that respite would be provided. I suggested that [REDACTED] make enquiries about local cubs and local football club, as possible activities for Michael. [REDACTED] said she already knows the man who runs the local boys football club: "Celtic boys", and he has indicated to her that [REDACTED] would be welcome and that he could if necessary help to transport [REDACTED] to football training.

11.03.96 Meeting at Polepark FCC to review their work with the children	Agreed that Polepark will not do further work with [redacted] and William, to allow the boys and foster carers to "settle", without this interruption. Discussion about possible future need to separate [redacted] and William if [redacted] behaviour continues (aggression to William etc). Discussion about [redacted] becoming more involved with William by accompanying him to/from nursery. [redacted] agreed to this. Agreed Phillip can ask Polepark workers to help support the boys placement, through work with carers, if this feels appropriate/useful.
12.03.96 Meeting with Joyce Gall, Resource Worker, re [redacted] feedback about [redacted] respite weekend with her	Joyce reported that [redacted] had said she felt [redacted] did well, and managed to fit in and enjoy himself. [redacted] met a lot of her family and played with the children without incident, though [redacted] son Scott (18) and girlfriend Lyn, who is pregnant, were concerned to hear [redacted] threatening to punch/kick the baby in Lyn's tummy. [redacted] offering to have [redacted] again, and to look after [redacted] and William for a weekend to allow William to see/meet her family.
12.03.96 Letter to Mr Boath (Mr TARBETT's solicitor) from Anne Partington noting response to his letter of 9 Feb '96.
13.03.96 Telephone call to [redacted] [redacted], Respite Carer, re last weekend's respite	[redacted] said that weekend had gone well, that Nadine and [redacted] hit it off straightaway; [redacted] enjoyed going to her sisters and playing out; Nadine didn't let [redacted] "get away with" anything; that she spoke sharply to him re his comment about "kicking Lesley's baby" - he looked at her whilst she told him off, accepted it and they just carried on as before; that later [redacted] commented "I won't be here when the baby comes" - suggesting his hostility was about the baby having this family for real unlike him being just visiting - [redacted] responded with "Well we could bring the baby to [redacted] to see you" which cheered him up. [redacted] would like to have [redacted] to stay again, and would like [redacted] to feel it is his "special place", which William might be invited to see and perhaps to join in with, but not for overnights unless [redacted] wants this. [redacted] told [redacted] that Friday night, when just he and Nadine were there, was better than Saturday night, when he and Nadine and [redacted] nephew [redacted] were there: indicating that he found [redacted] also being there disruptive/threatening. Probably next respite will be 1st week of April, with possible Sunday later when [redacted] and William both visit for tea. [redacted] recognising that William was behaving well and that this might change, feeling she is ready for this if/when it happens. [redacted] noted that [redacted] seemed fascinated by her many different friends/relatives he met, wanting to know who each one was, how significant they were etc.
13.03.96 Telephone call to [redacted] Respite Carer, re last weekend's respite care of William	[redacted] said William "got on fine", played with her children; a couple of times he punched them for no obvious reason "just kicked them as he walked past". [redacted] said she and [redacted] would be happy to look after William again, though could not commit themselves to a regular respite arrangement because they are hoping to have other children placed with them. 13.03.96 About William staying on at Lilybank	Points to note: that William can stay at Lilybank, that this would involve him in their "ending"; that this would be a good way for him and mark the finishing off of his time at Lilybank and the transfer to school; that [REDACTED] could become involved in the transport to/from Lilybank, building up their relationship and letting William let go of his relationship with Margaret Davidson.
13.03.96 Telephone call from Mr Tarbett, complaining about Linda Robertson etc	See Detail Record.
13.03.96 Discussion with Anne Partington, Senior Social Worker re Mrs [REDACTED] transporting William to Lilybank	Anne agreed that I could explore with Mrs [REDACTED] how she might become involved in transport, and cost out options - bus/taxi etc ... perhaps start with [REDACTED] collecting William.
14.03.96 Telephone call to Karen Dorward, Lilybank re William's transport	Karen noted that William would be better picked up after 1pm, and at any time till 3.30 pm, so [REDACTED] could arrange this to suit her plans. Karen reported that there is a bus from Charleston to Lilybank: No 26, which probably takes about 20 minutes. I noted for Karen that I am inclined to support William's staying on at Lilybank, providing we can get [REDACTED] involved in the transport. Karen assured me that Lilybank would help prepare William for school "as well as any nursery" and that they would arrange for him to visit St Clement's, to take his keyworker to see it etc.
14.03.96 Telephone call to Mrs Donnelly, St Clement's re [REDACTED] possibly looking out for his dad at school	Mrs Donnelly will ask the playground attendant to note whether [REDACTED] is "looking out for dad at breaktimes" - as she said he would be when discussing dad's access with F [REDACTED]

Linda has reported this to the police and her solicitor. Linda said she is now concerned about this happening again. I explained that since access is due to reduce anyway it is important to keep up the next few, and offered to transport Linda to her bus after next Tuesday's access - to help her continue to attend access whilst we prepare the children for its reducing.
18.03.96 Telephone call to Joyce Gall, Resource Worker re placement issues	Noting:- (i) Request for Lyn to be paid for her babysitting - Joyce confirmed that this is in hand. (ii) Joyce to arrange separate respite for [REDACTED] and William in 1st week of April. (iii) That I will aim to visit [REDACTED] weekly. 27.03.96 Home visit to Mrs [REDACTED] Foster Carer	[REDACTED] noted that William's behaviour has been very poor this week, but not clear why. At [REDACTED] school "parent's night" Mrs Donnelly reported that [REDACTED] is "very clever/good at his work", but that there are many reports about his hitting other children.
27.03.96 Home visit to [REDACTED] and William - outing with William to Camperdown and with [REDACTED] to Kirkton Resource Centre Pool Room.	William spoke a lot about the horses/animals at Wildlife Centre, which frighten him. William enjoyed playing on the playpark boats. [REDACTED] changed from his school clothes quickly and was eager to go to play pool. During the game [REDACTED] made up his own rules and at one point jumped onto the table, I took him down and raised my voice, he hit out at me and then hid under the pool table. [REDACTED] then got on with the game again, and was able to leave "on time". On the way home [REDACTED] asked "Will I get a new family?". I said that it was my job to find a new family for [REDACTED] didn't want to say any more. Arranged next home visit and outing for morning during Easter holidays (11.4.96).

11.09.96 Telephone call from [REDACTED] foster carer. [REDACTED] and William ill (M Leslie, Social Worker)	[REDACTED] and William seem to have caught "tummy bug". Sick since last night. Better this morning but very weak and off school. Will contact Maureen Petrie, Social Work Assistant, tomorrow re meeting with father. P McGill/CG
16.09.96 Telephone call from [REDACTED] A Partington, Senior Social Worker	[REDACTED] refusing to go to school this morning. Currently sitting out at the back, then kicking the door. Discussed how to manage this, agreed [REDACTED] tries leaving him be for a bit if possible try the softly softly approach. Margaret Leslie to ring back before 10 am to see how things are. Spoke to Margaret who will ring back as agreed.
16.09.96 Home visit (A Partington, Senior Social Worker)	Margaret Leslie subsequently visited and was able to take [REDACTED] to school. See Detail Record by Margaret Leslie.
16.09.96 (M Leslie, Social Worker) Telephone call to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] foster carer, at request of Senior Social Worker. [REDACTED] refusing to go into school this morning	[REDACTED] currently in house, packing his belongings, saying he wishes to move out. Has been very difficult since return from respite yesterday - angry and aggressive toward William (mutual) and [REDACTED]. Incident with daughter of respite carer - both found in bed, playing "houses", no indication of sexualised behaviour thought Mrs [REDACTED] feeling this may only have been because of her early intervention. [REDACTED] unsure of how to respond to [REDACTED] who agreed to visit by myself.
Later: Visit to placement Response to carers need for help/supports	[REDACTED] calm, dressed for school, initially uncommunicative. [REDACTED] raised issue of his request for move and I told [REDACTED] that I had not come to do this but to speak with [REDACTED] and offer help to her. [REDACTED] gave William as reason for requesting move. [REDACTED] admitted William had been very provocative towards [REDACTED] since return from respite. Suggested to [REDACTED] that I take him into school. Eventually went along with this, wanting [REDACTED] to accompany. Suggested to [REDACTED] that he talk to Phillip on his return from holiday re request for move. [REDACTED] returned to school with [REDACTED] who explained reason for lateness. [REDACTED] later expressed uncertainty about [REDACTED] commitment to placement and feelings towards herself. Said I felt she was a significant person for [REDACTED] (evidenced in earlier contact) and need to avoid, if possible, unplanned move. Joyce Gall, Resource Worker, had been due to visit last week but cancelled due to illness. Advised [REDACTED] that I would ask Joyce to get in touch and that she should feel free to contact either myself or Anne Partington in case of further difficulties. Note: Mr Tarbett has not made contact following threats made to do so during social work interview of 10/9.

02.10.96 Minutes from Permanence Panel of 29.08.96
02.10.96 Telephone call from [REDACTED] regarding [REDACTED]	[REDACTED] reported that school had contacted her to enquire if anything had changed for [REDACTED] as has been quite changed at school last 2 weeks. Agreed I would contact school. [REDACTED] being disruptive, needing to be taken out of his class.
03.10.96 Home visit to Mrs [REDACTED]	Discussed present circumstances. [REDACTED] confirmed that she has spoken with her husband and sons, and they all agree that they could continue to care for William, but not for both, nor for [REDACTED] alone. Not expecting [REDACTED] to move until something suitable arranged.
03.10.96 Meeting at St Clement's with N [REDACTED] teachers and Headteacher Mr Rae	Teachers noted that for about a week [REDACTED] has had quite a different personality: anxious, nervous, worried, withdrawn. They have separated him on some occasions because of disrupting class, and to try and give him supportive one-to-one. As we couldn't think of a single incident to trigger this mood change, we reason it may be to do with [REDACTED] thinking towards his placement ending. We agreed to liaise again near start of next term.

08.10.96 Meeting with Linda Robertson, mother; M Braney, Social Worker for [REDACTED] M Leslie & P McGill	See Detail Record
09.10.96 Home visit to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] and William, at home for the holidays	Discussed:- 1. Both boys were OK at respite, [REDACTED] spent a lot of time writing letters to [REDACTED] "Thank you for looking after me for these months", "Can I stay with you all the time?" "I wish I could stay and you look after us." [REDACTED] has written letters in the past "To the best foster carer" but this is the first time he has "asked to stay". When [REDACTED] returned to [REDACTED] he didn't give her the letters but left them in his bag for her to find. 2. When I arrived [REDACTED] had made a garden/present for [REDACTED] 3. [REDACTED] says she can't bear to find any more of the letters, as it "breaks her heart" to think of [REDACTED] asking to stay knowing that will not be. 4. [REDACTED] has asked about mum's access, thinking it still occurs once fortnightly.
09.10.96 Meeting with Marina Braney, Social Worker, Linda Robertson, mother, M Leslie & P McGill	See Detail Record.
10.10.96 Mr Tarbett's access with [REDACTED] and William	Access was going well, with the children occupied in dividing up and eating their sweets, until Mr Tarbett brought out some photographs from a previous access which he showed to the children, drawing their attention to one photograph of William which had been torn up. Mr Tarbett pointedly reported that their mum, drunk, with beer from the pub, tore up this photo when he "got the police". At another point Mr Tarbett asked [REDACTED] "What's this about you hitting [REDACTED] and her having 4 stitches in her head?" This flustered [REDACTED] he and [REDACTED] explained that this hadn't been as serious as that, [REDACTED] bursting his coat and the zip hitting [REDACTED] on her head. At several points later William seemed sad/miserable/"left out" he asked his dad why their mum had torn up his photo. Mr Tarbett gave William no support to understand, but preferred to "paint a black picture" about uncaring mum.

14.10.96 Home visit to Mrs [REDACTED] and William. Individual work with [REDACTED] and trip to Barrack Street Museum	[REDACTED] reported that William has been "dreadful" over the weekend 11-13th, that he spoke to [REDACTED] about the torn photo and asked her "Do you like me?" [REDACTED] and I agreeing that the probable cause of William's "dreadfulness" is the incident at access with dad telling him how his mum doesn't care. [REDACTED] was very reluctant to visit the museum, at first, so we walked around the town centre, had a drink in McDonald's, looked in the Howff Graveyard, before trying the museum, which he then found enjoyable and interesting (providing we didn't linger too long at any one exhibit).
17.10.96 Outing with William to Barrack Street Museum. Home visit to [REDACTED]	William enjoyed our walk through the town, and going to McDonalds for a drink, but wasn't too happy about the "dead" animals in the museum, which he was scared of. William has continued to be very cheeky. On Monday night he got up after being asleep and went to the toilet, but left pooh "all over the bathroom" and "in his toes". He was awake, and not unaware of what he was doing. [REDACTED] wonders if he had had too much to eat, but we agreed that he is fit and healthy, not putting on excess weight. [REDACTED] notes that she does have to decide how much to let him eat at each meal, as he would just continue otherwise.
18.10.96 Fortnightly letters to Mr Tarbett and Ms Robertson
18.10.96 Letter from Mr Boath, Solicitor for Mr Tarbett	Requesting information about Permanence Panel and making reference to "Care Orders".
21.10.96 Meeting with Mr Tarbett. See Detail Record by M Leslie	I ventured to Mr Tarbett that his having informed William about the torn photo was not in William's interests. Mr Tarbett disputed this, saying that he could tell his children whatever he liked, and maintaining that he had told William and the children because a letter from [REDACTED] accused him of something and "told lies" about their mum ie Mr Tarbett clearly put his own needs (to 'be right') above William's. We went on to say that this turmoil between the children's mum and dad, in continuing, is unlikely to lead the Children's Panel to let the children return home. Mr Tarbett acknowledged this, and maintained he will continue fighting for them.

24.10.96 Home visit to [REDACTED] [REDACTED]	[REDACTED] reported that Mr Tarbett visited the home on Tuesday, driving by in his car with 3 others [REDACTED] Lyn heard Mr Tarbett ask the boys if they "had seen their mum this afternoon?" [REDACTED] discussed how [REDACTED] is constantly physically aggressive with William, that William often goads [REDACTED] but William comes off worst. That the mornings begin with fighting between the boys.
24.10.96 Individual work with [REDACTED]	We went to Kirkton Resource Centre to play pool, at [REDACTED] request. This session went well, Michael keen to practice his snooker skills, and not behaving poorly save the occasional spit. [REDACTED] didn't talk about any matters other than how the snooker was going. At the end I mentioned there being a Children's Panel soon, and a letter for him and William about this. [REDACTED] casually said he knew all about them, had been before, that they had put him into fostering.
30.10.96 Individual work with William - to Camperdown Park	William behaved well, wanted to play in the sand and with the bowls, ending up quite dirty but happy.

31.10.96 Home visit to Mrs [REDACTED] discussion about the boys	After access with dad sometimes the boys are more-than-usual physically aggressive with each other. After mum's access they are not more aggressive, but they never mention their mum's name (they do talk about dad eg "Dad chasing [REDACTED]"). [REDACTED] will be at home caring for [REDACTED] and William, who are not attending the panel, and so will miss the Panel. Presently William is a little less difficult than the recent extremes, though he threw a blazing tantrum today. 01.11.96 Meeting with school teachers with Mrs [REDACTED] William: Mrs McBride [REDACTED] Miss Ferrie & Mrs Young	William: Has been aggressive in class this week. Concentration span is limited but is slightly improving. William is the poorest in the class for being able to sit and listen. William is very fidgety. William doesn't have any "partners" to pair up with - the other children don't choose him, perhaps because he can change so suddenly from "nice" to "nasty" and thump. William dresses himself after gym and can manage buttons although often his shoes are back to front. William is generally very happy. [REDACTED]

07.02.97 Fortnightly letter to Mr TARBETT
11.02.97 [REDACTED] and William had access with their mother
14.02.97 Letter to Mr & Mrs [REDACTED]	[REDACTED] are approved adoptive carers in Aberdeenshire, and have expressed an interest, via BAAF newsletter, in William.
13.02.97 Home visit to [REDACTED] [REDACTED]	Discussed about boys' present circumstances. [REDACTED] noting that she intends to inform her Resource Worker that she wishes the boys placement to continue only until 28th March, and expects the boys to be moved on by that date. [REDACTED] noted principally this request comes from the pressure her own sons are under, and from wishing to see the boys separated and with opportunity for each to live without present continued aggression.
13.02.97 Individual work with William	William went to Camperdown Park and played on the boats, visited the horses etc. William enjoyed our time and wished not to talk of any "issues". Session allowed for a little exploration of William's trust in myself, and suggested William would be able to feel supported by myself during forthcoming potentially traumatic time, given move in care planned.
20.02.97 Home visit to [REDACTED] [REDACTED]	Noted for [REDACTED] that I understood Dept have acknowledged the need to move the boys on before 28/3. [REDACTED] emphasised that she could continue placement beyond that date for a short period if this proved necessary. Noted that [REDACTED] and William are continuing to be aggressive, initiated by [REDACTED]. Also noted that William is making more efforts in dressing himself - allowing [REDACTED] to assess that he has ability to complete most of task (buttons, zips etc) but chooses not to.
20.02.97 Individual work with [REDACTED]	Took [REDACTED] to Barrack Street Museum and then to McDonald's for a milkshake. [REDACTED] behaved quite well throughout and respected the guidelines I set.

22.04.97 Home visit to William at [REDACTED] Place. Individual work with William (trip to local park)	William very happy and proud of new house which he showed me around. At park we watched ducks and played football. Spoke about [REDACTED] and William's new school - Longhaugh Primary, new teacher: Mrs Robertson. William spoke of enjoying this new school and of it being "good" at [REDACTED]. Mr and Mrs [REDACTED] reported that William is settled and content, and they are beginning to tackle with him his lazy attitude to tasks including dressing himself and homework. Already William is doing more for himself because he is learning that no-one else will do it for him. Noted William had one incident where he showed off his willy to the other foster children: [REDACTED] ([REDACTED]). [REDACTED] dealt with this by sending him to his room for 10 minutes for doing something he should not do. Since then behaviour hasn't been repeated as far as they are aware. Mrs [REDACTED] noted that James attends a tea-time group for children, on Thursdays, at Happyhillock C&F Centre. Wondering if William could join as he would enjoy it. I will check. William to go for respite this weekend to Mr and Mrs [REDACTED]. P McGill/CG

30.05.97 Telephone call from [REDACTED] re William and Mr Tarbett driving past their house	At 5.55pm [REDACTED] saw Mr Tarbett and Ms Robertson in a car driving along her street and back around the top street: they could not have been "just passing". William wasn't there. Yesterday William attended Happyhillock Child & Family Centre children's tea-time group. This is ongoing every Thursday. Yesterday, William threw the kitten at the table and encouraged [REDACTED] to do the same. This was deliberate.
06.06.97 Telephone call from Mrs [REDACTED]	Noting William had a medical at school and discussion agreed that he should be referred to Educational Psychology.
09.06.97 Meeting at Longhaugh with Mrs Clark re William	Agreed, school to provide extra work for William to complete over summer holidays - feeling it is essential that William continues to practice basic language and number skills. School feel William has made little progress and would benefit from repeating primary 1, thought this is not possible Penny Forsythe, Educational Psychologist, to assess William next term for any learning difficulties.
09.06.97 Home Visit to William and [REDACTED]	Topics: William at school, we will try to make an arrangement over summer holidays to support William, possible involving Maureen Petrie. Individual work: took William to "Swannie Ponds" - played football and on the swings - William not wanting to talk about anything other than our play and his skills ("look what I can do" etc...). William seemed happy and content, keen to return to Lunan's for his tea.

18.06.97 Home Visit to Mr and Mrs [REDACTED] with Heather Russell, Resource Worker, Discussed placement	[REDACTED] feeling William is settling in, he is telling fewer lies as he is learning that they don't resolve anything. Noted William has been seen to be 'flirty' - encouraging close physical contact/kissing - with older boys who come to the home (sons of friends); also William preferring adult attention to play with others whenever this is available. William can be sulky but hasn't shown any 'tantrum-like' behaviour.
18.06.97 Updated Profiles sent to BAAF for their next newsletter.
18.06.97 Home Visit to Mr and Mrs [REDACTED] with Heather Russell, Resource Worker	Discussed: concerns about William's motivation and ability at school - William not wanting to practice reading/writing at home; Maureen to try to work with William over holidays on reading/writing skills; about William telling lies and seeking adult attention etc.
