Many thanks for your referral regarding this lady who has got over-active wet problems. She denies any history of visible haematuria. She has tried all Anticholinergics and in fact two years ago I put her name on the list for cystoscopy and intravesical Botulinum Toxin A injection. Unfortunately she got lost in the system and was not sent for. Her symptoms are still the same and she still leaks urine on the way to the toilet. She denies any history of visible haematuria. I did a residual urine estimation for her in the clinic and she did manage to empty the bladder. Her maximum flow rate was 34 ml/s and she passed 629 cc's urine.

As she has tried Anticholinergics I have given her a prescription of Betmiga 50 mg daily and I have asked her to continue if she finds it helpful. I have also placed her name on the list for cystoscopy and intravesical Botulinum Toxin A injection. I have told her that if Betmiga is working well for her she can ring my secretary and we will take her name off the list for Botox injections.

Yours sincerely
