Thank you for your recent enquiry, seeking records that were prepared during your time at Lendrick Muir. Unfortunately, due to establishing the new Seamab school in 1988, we have been unable to locate any further records that were created during this early phase (for the period 1988 to 1997). Any records from Lendrick Muir are very sparse and no consistency around what records were kept at that time; the information above, is all that we could find.
