Ridgepark Residential School

Mentor Teacher Assessment Report

Name of Pupil: Ryan Ruthven

Date: 24.2.94

Current Situation

Ryan has presented himself as a fairly cheerful character in the six weeks at Ridgepark. However, within this assessment period he has experienced several difficulties settling into the structure within the school.

The main areas of difficulty have been:

- o low level of concentration span which has made it difficult to cope with classwork within a 40 minute period (see class teacher reports);
- o opting out of class and classroom situations;
- o absconding from school on two occasions;
- o non-cooperation with members of staff, especially when restrictions are placed on him;
- o difficulty coping with group situations - ie school meetings, lunch times, etc.

Ryan has difficulty coping with the reality of his life and day to day situations. This has made it very difficult to start building a trusting relationship between mentor and pupil. Ryan weaves many stories and finds it difficult to be truthful even when being asked to discuss very minor situations he either concocts an elaborate story to explain his actions or will transfer the reasons for his actions as someone else's responsibility.

In the short time Ryan has been at the school he has spoken at great length about his dad, his relationship with him, and his plans to work with his father when he is 16.

When Ryan is encouraged to be realistic about this situation he either becomes defensive and challenging or completely uncommunicative.

As Ryan states he will be working with his father it has been problematic encouraging him to make decisions regarding his future. He does, however, express an interest in a work experience placement; unfortunately this will not be practical until Ryan is able to sustain a more settled pattern of behaviour.

Relationship With Staff

Ryan blows very hot and cold with staff. If restrictions are placed on him he can be extremely abusive, and will keep this attitude for days, refusing to attend the particular class. However, to date the pattern has been for Ryan to have a change of heart and apologise to the member of staff.

All staff, however, see Ryan as a basically pleasant, good-humoured boy who could definitely benefit from the regime at Ridgepark if he can settle into the structure.

Relationship With Peers

Ryan is fairly isolated within his peer group. He often blames others for his own misdemeanours, he challenges them (usually when he has protection of a member of staff) and most importantly he makes himself into a figure of ridicule with his outlandish stories. He is attempting to make himself into the school "clown".

Areas of Progress

- o He has attended classes more regularly over the past two weeks.
- o He has managed to achieve one platinum certificate.
- o His ability to "make up" with staff after a disagreement.
- o Within the assessment period it has been recognised that Ryan has many qualities that can be worked with.

Areas of Concern

- o Difficulty in facing with reality - especially where his dad is concerned.
- o Ryan gives little thought to, and is unwilling to start making decisions regarding, his future situation.
- o Story telling and difficulty in being truthful in discussions.
- o Absconding.

Conclusion/Recommendations

If Ryan remains in Ridgepark there are many areas in which he can benefit. Since Ryan is in his final year of education it is important for him to face up to his future needs.

The main recommendation for Ryan is to progress towards a work experience, where he can be fully supported by staff.

However, before this can be achieved Ryan must prove that:

- o he can sustain himself in classes by settling to tasks;
- o he can accept direction from staff;
- o he can conduct himself in a socially acceptable manner interacting within the community.

If Ryan remains at Ridgepark he will be fully supported in helping achieve these recommendations. There are also many other areas in which he will benefit.

Because Ryan half-heartedly states he wants to leave Ridgepark it is important he be fully aware of and accept the recommendations for him if he remains - if not the next 10 months will pass with little progress having been made.

RIDGEPARK RESIDENTIAL SCHOOL

UNIT REPORT

SUBJECT : Ryan Ruthven

DATE : 24 February 1994

Current Situation

Since his placement at Redbrae proved to be unsustainable, Ryan was admitted to Ridgepark on a residential basis going home at weekends and holidays. Transport is provided fortnightly for his mother to visit.

Relationship with Staff

Ryan does not have any favourites within the staff group. When he is in a good mood he is fine with everyone, however, if he is in a stroppy mood everyone within earshot will get the worst of his tongue.

Relationship with Peers

Ryan is a loner with no real friends in the school or residential group. His 'oddball' character leaves him open to a great amount of slagging and 'mickey taking' from the other boys. He presents as being an unhappy, solitary figure who will not try to conform or fit in with the group.

Health

Although tall and quite thin, Ryan appears to be a healthy teenager. He has weird tales of previous, near fatal illnesses which prove to be unfounded. He was prescribed an inhaler but does not appear to be over breathless or show the usual asthmatic symptoms.

Relationship with Family

Ryan states quite clearly that he hates Alec. When his mother did visit the school he would not speak to her because Alec started talking about Ryan's behaviour at home. When he is at home during weekends etc he does not appear to be involved in any family activity. Quite often he spends his time in bed, possibly avoiding any confrontations.

Outside Agencies

Mr G Sweeney, Social Worker, has been involved with Ryan and his family for quite some time. Mr R Thomson, Psychologist, is also involved in Ryan's case.

Areas /

Areas of Progress

Occasionally, Ryan has managed to sustain himself for longer periods at activities. He has also managed to settle, a few times, at bedtime without the usual jumping about and disturbing the other boys.

Areas of Concern

Ryan's lack of motivation or thought for the future is very worrying. His lack of responsibility for his actions is also a concern. Although it has been explained to him that living with his father is not an option, Ryan believes that is where he will go when he is sixteen.

Going to live with his mother and three siblings in a one bedroomed flat is hardly ideal, especially if Alec is still on the scene.

In the short time that Ryan has been with us, he has absconded on three occasions.

Recommendations

- 1 Ryan remain at Ridgepark.
- 2 The possibility of a Befriender to be found by Social Work to take Ryan out at weekends and holidays.
- 3 Visits to be adhered to by Mrs Ruthven, preferably on her own, in order that contact is maintained outwith weekends and holidays.
- 4 Try to motivate Ryan to think sensibly about his future and his time spent here.

EDUCATION REPORT

A: LANGUAGE SKILLS

Listening

Ryan is easily distracted and has poor concentration. He lacks confidence and needs instructions to be repeated.

Spoken English

Ryan is quiet in class. He may feel intimidated by others and prefers not to draw attention to himself.

Reading

The amount of reading done by Ryan has been kept to a minimum in order to help him settle into class. His level of comprehension is poor and in a simple exercise Ryan has been unable to choose suitable words and put them into context.

Reading Age: 7 years 6 months

Chronological Age: 14 years 6 months

Written English

Ryan's written work is legible and quite tidy when he is copying sentences or short passages. However, if he has to rely on his own spelling then his writing becomes illegible. He tends to write in simple sentences and often omits the words "the", "a", and prepositions.

B: MATHEMATICAL SKILLS

HANDLING PRACTICAL PROBLEMS

Ryan has been revising basic computation before proceeding with problem solving.

COMPUTATION

Ryan has a basic grasp of adding, subtracting multiplying and dividing.

Arithmetic Age:	Addition	8 years 6 months
	Subtraction	8 years
	Multiplication	8 years 6 months
	Division	8 years

Chronological Age: 14 years 6 months

Text Books in Use

Maths in Action (1)

COMPUTER SKILLS

Ryan enjoys playing arcade type games on the computer.

C: SCIENCE

There has been an improvement in both the volume and presentation of Ryan's work this year. However, he is still far too inclined to make wild guesses in response to very easy problems. His teacher is not sure whether this is caused by panic or laziness. Ryan's scores on knowledge and understanding have shown some improvement, but problem solving skills are still very poor.

-RED BRAE SCHOOL-

F: CLASSROOM BEHAVIOUR

RELATIONSHIPS WITH PEERS

Ryan feels intimidated by the stronger characters in class. He isolates himself from them and rarely contributes to what they are doing or saying.

RELATIONSHIPS WITH STAFF

In the short time that Ryan has been in class he has been quiet and quite cooperative. He has been polite and helpful. Ryan displayed some annoyance at having to complete the Review test sheets. However, he was encouraged to tackle the arithmetic sheets and with the privacy and quietness of another room, he made a very good attempt.

AREAS OF DIFFICULTY/CONCERN/SPECIAL TREATMENT

Ryan's spelling and his inability to express himself on paper.

-RED BRAE SCHOOL-

RESIDENTIAL SOCIAL WORKERS REPORT

1. Physical Development Since Admission: Health

Ryan remains in good health.

2. Emotional Development and Behavioural Problems

Ryan is settled within Red Brae. His back chatting continues towards staff when he is being reprimanded, even when this is of a minor nature. Ryan seems to be more settled in school when his weekend at home has gone well. Unfortunately Ryan was returned to school on Saturday 5th June 1993 because of behavioural problems at home. On Sunday 6th June Ryan absconded from Red Brae in the company of another boy.

3. Contact with Parents, Siblings, & Other Relatives

Ryan usually goes home each weekend from a Friday afternoon until a Sunday evening. Around once a month, Ryan stays at Red Brae for the weekend.

4. Contact with Other Agencies

Educational Psychologist: Mr R. Thomson,
Senior Educational Psychologist,
Woodstock Street,
KILMARNOCK.

Social Worker: Mr G. Sweeney,
Social Work Department,
2 The Cross,
KILMARNOCK.

5. Leisure Pursuits

Ryan takes part in most pursuits offered to him at Red Brae.

-RED BRAE SCHOOL-

6. Socialisation

Ryan tends not to socialise with his peers. He still prefers the company of the younger boys in the school.

7. Relationships

Ryan's relationship with the care staff is improving slightly. Should his keyworker not be available to speak to, Ryan now tends to approach and speak to another member of staff.

8. Any Special Areas of Concern Requiring Action

Ryan needs his home leave every weekend. He does not understand why he must remain at Red Brae once a month. This issue needs to be explained to Ryan in order that his weekend in school goes well.

SUMMARY MINUTE OF REVIEW MEETING

NAME: RYAN RUTHVEN
D.O.B.: 31.12.78
ADDRESS: 62 LOUDOUN ROAD, NEWMILNS
SCHOOL: RED BRAE SCHOOL, MAYBOLE
DATE OF MEETING: 14 JANUARY 1993
VENUE: RED BRAE SCHOOL

IN ATTENDANCE: R. Dalrymple (Principal of Red Brae)
J. Laing (Head of Care)
Mrs McQuater (Depute Head Teacher)
G. Sweeney (Senior Social Worker, Kilmarnock)
R. Thompson (Senior Educational Psychologist)

SUMMARY

- Ryan's school report was circulated and discussed.
- Academically Ryan functions at about mid-primary school level. He copes better with structured tasks rather than problem solving tasks. He has poor comprehension skills. He dislikes tests and will often pretend he cannot do something rather than make an attempt.
- He can be very cheeky to adults but is much more cautious with his peer group because he wants to be accepted and not picked on. He has difficulty accepting a reprimand.
- Ryan prefers the company of the younger children in Red Brae although he has no close friends.
- Ryan became unsettled before Christmas and was running away from school. He now has a member of staff supervising him to avoid further incidents.
- The issue of home leave at weekends continues to be a problem for Ryan. The family sometimes want Ryan to stay at Red Brae and this is causing problems for Ryan. He needs regular home leave and contact with home.
- Ryan has been a long time in residential care and he feels it. It is important that he gets regular contact with home and that we continue to work towards day boy status.
- .../

- Ryan is on a supervision order which will be reviewed around April/May.
- Ryan remains physically and emotionally quite immature for his age.
- Ryan enjoys most of the leisure pursuits at school eg. skating, football etc. and he participates well.

RECOMMENDATIONS

- (1) Ryan to remain a residential pupil at Redbrae School.
- (2) There should be a meeting with mother, Gerry Sweeney and Elaine to look at weekend leave.
- (3) The question of continued supervision to be considered at the next Children's Panel in May(?).
- (4) A further review meeting will be held in Red Brae School on WEDNESDAY 9 JUNE 1993 at 2.00 p.m.

SUMMARY OF REVIEW

NAME: RYAN RUTHVEN
D.O.B: 31.12.78
ADDRESS: 62 LOUDOUN ROAD, NEWMILNS
SCHOOL: REDBRAE SCHOOL, MAYBOLE
DATE OF MEETING: 9 JUNE 1993
VENUE: REDBRAE SCHOOL
PURPOSE: REVIEW OF EDUCATIONAL PROVISION

In Attendance: Mr Thompson (Senior Educational Psychologist)
Mrs Ruthven
Mr Robb
J Laing (Head of Care)
G Sweeney (Social Work Department)
Mrs Carruthers (Teacher)
Mrs Freireich (Science Teacher)

Ryan has just recently changed to a new class teacher. He has difficulty with English language work. His reading age is 7 years 6 months. He refuses to read aloud. Ryan is very self conscious of his difficulties and consequently is very lacking in self confidence. He cannot cope with tests. He is not capable of doing Standard Grade exams. It is more likely that he could cope with a SCOTVEC module in Social Skills. He enjoys basic computation and is functioning at about the 8 year old level on a standard arithmetic test. In school he is following the Alpha-Omega reading programme.

In class Ryan tends to be wary of other boys. He is somewhat of an isolate. In his science class he tends to be a bit cheekier. The teacher has the impression that he is more capable than he wants you to believe, but prefers to pretend he cannot do.

As far as school work is concerned Ryan continues to require a lot of individual support and would not be able to cope in mainstream classes.

Within the house Ryan's behaviour has been good recently. A lot depends on the weekend he has had. He ran away on 6 June 1993 with another pupil who is not a good influence on him.

At home his behaviour is variable. Alex and Maureen do not always agree on how to discipline Ryan. Ryan does not accept Alex.

As agreed at the last review a meeting was held at home to consider a regular pattern for weekend leave. It was agreed that Ryan would spend one weekend in four in Redbrae. Ryan is happier with a predictable pattern.

Ryan tends to visit his Gran in Bellfield or wants to visit his 'papa' in Barrhill. He goes to whoever will accept him.

Ryan appeared at a Children's Panel in May to have his supervision order reviewed. It was decided to terminate supervision. He has never committed any offences in the community.

Behaviour in school is satisfactory. Ryan fits well into school routines.

There has been slow progress to day status because of the problems with Ryan at home.

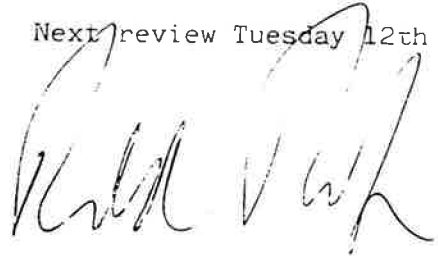

Ryan is due to leave school December 1994. He will be seen by the Careers Officer in Redbrae School in December to consider post school options.

Since the summer is a particularly difficult time for the family it is proposed that Ryan be offered a week's respite in Redbrae from 19 July 1993 to 23 July 1993.

A further review was proposed in October.

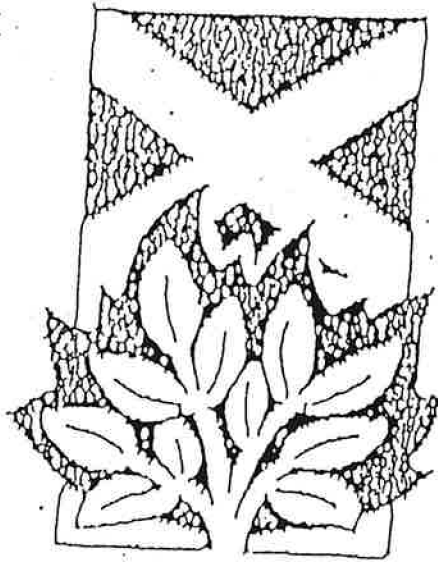

Recommendations:

1. Ryan to remain a residential pupil in Redbrae.
2. To consider more time at home after the summer.
3. Recommend a week's respite in Redbrae from July 19th to July 23rd.
4. Ryan to be seen by the Careers Officer at Christmas along with other school leavers.
5. Next review Tuesday 12th October at 2.00 p.m in Redbrae.

RYAN WORKS WELL IN CLASS WHEN HE FEELS LIKE IT. UNFORTUNATELY HE CAN BE VERY HOSTILE AND VERBALLY ABUSIVE TOWARDS ME AND THIS MAKES THE STABLISHING OF ANY KIND OF WORKING RELATIONSHIP RATHER DIFFICULT. I AM OPEFUL THAT HE WILL EVENTUALLY REALISE THAT EVEN THOUGH I AM FEMALE I ANT TO HELP HIM AND HAVE ONLY HIS BEST INTERESTS AT HEART. -----

RYAN IS CAPABLE OF GOOD WORK, BUT HIS CONCENTRATION CAN BE POOR. A MAIN TUMBLING BLOCK IS HIS RELUCTANCE TO CONFRONT THE FACT THAT THERE ARE REAS OF WORK THAT NEED IMPROVEMENT AND REINFORCEMENT, AND THAT HE STILL AS A LOT TO LEARN. RYAN SHOULD DO WELL ON THE EDUCATION FRONT ONCE HE IS ORE SETTLED.

RECENTLY RYAN'S ATTENDANCE HAS IMPROVED, AFTER A GREAT DEAL OF TIME REFUSING TO COME OR TO WORK, AND GENERALLY MESSING AROUND. WHEN HE DOES PUT HIS MIND TO IT RYAN CAN PRODUCE GOOD RESULTS, BUT IS TOO EASILY TURNED OFF WHEN HE RUNS INTO DIFFICULTIES.

RYAN IS MUCH MORE SETTLED IN CLASS NOW. HE DOES NOT EXHIBIT THE SAME AMOUNT OF AGGRESSION AND SEEMS TO BE QUITE HAPPY TO WORK. HIS GREATEST FAULT IS HIS INABILITY TO ADMIT THAT HE HAS MADE A MISTAKE, BUT EVEN HERE THERE ARE SIGNS OF IMPROVEMENT. ALSO HIS IMPATIENCE IS A DRAWBACK. NO FLOW SHEET

Ryan moved from Kirkmichael House to Redbrae last June having passed Kirkmichael's normal age range. In the past year contact has been maintained between the family, Redbrae and the writer. My main contact has been with Mrs Ruthven, usually to discuss the general family situation although there has been specific discussions about Ryan. I have visited Redbrae for reviews and to see Ryan and staff on particular matters and see Ryan at home when possible.

Ryan's move to Redbrae recognised that although he had progressed at Kirkmichael he was not at the stage of adjusting to local schooling and would find full time at home difficult. Redbrae was seen as providing the opportunity of more appropriate education, continuing work on his social and emotional development and extended home leave as circumstances permitted. The option of day boy status would be available if appropriate. Ryan has clearly made progress in his personal development during his period in residential schooling and, although there have been issues associated with his move of placement which set this back, he has continued to make progress.

The family housing situation is undoubtedly difficult, they presently occupy a two room flat in Newmilns, and puts added stress on the situation. More significantly however, Mrs Ruthven's long standing relationship with Mr Robb has become more of an issue. Ryan and Mr Robb clearly do not get on and Mr Robb has an unhelpful attitude to Ryan. From discussion with the adults it is clear that Mr Robb and Mrs Ruthven have different attitudes to the children and this is a source of tension. This has resulted in Ryan missing home leave and left him with the feeling that he is given second place to Mr Robb. Recently Mrs Ruthven has made efforts to end the relationship, she recognises that her life with the children is easier when she is in sole control. This however places different worries on her shoulder as a single parent with four children, however she seems more able to cope with this.

Ryan has obviously been affected by the home situation and has some problems with other boys at the school. Although this has been difficult he has made some progress. Over the year he has taken to absconding, either from home or school, to get away from problems however this has not been excessive and has been managed appropriately.

Ryan Ruthven

Given the difficulties in his and the family's life it is very likely that he will require continued specialist help throughout his time at school. Although Mrs Ruthven has some concern that he will not change by the time he is sixteen, he has made progress and there is a basis to be more confident. Although improved housing in its self would not solve all difficulties, it would be of help and is being pursued although no time-scale can be established.

Mrs Ruthven has over the years been willing to accept support and advice but has been unhappy about statutory involvement with the children. Progress has allowed a gradual change whereby initially their names were removed from the child protection register, it was not felt necessary to refer Danielle as in need of compulsory measures of care and lastly Lee's supervision order was terminated. It now seems appropriate to consider terminating Ryan's order. His placement in specialist residential provision by the education department can and will continue irrespective of any supervision order and Mrs Ruthven and Ryan would be amenable to continuing social work support on a voluntary basis. In the circumstances the panel is asked to recognise that, despite difficulties, there has been progress in Ryan's situation and to consider terminating his order as a part of a process which builds on this progress.

Areas of concern as indicated in Social Worker's review form:

Ryan's family will always offer a contact point/visiting option for Ryan but will not provide a base to return home from care.

Ryan is fast approaching 17 and has made little actual progress in establishing future plans, although he is capable of a great deal of this work. He is clearly unhappy about his situation and acts out accordingly. Time is therefore spent on dealing with his unsettled behaviour at the expense of making progress in terms of future plans.

Summary of Discussion:

SEE ATTACHED SHEET

Continued overleaf

Social Worker's Review Report, Geilsland Child Care Review Report and Lomond Unit Review Report were distributed and time given for perusal.

Annabel Sinclair, Chairperson opened the meeting, introductions were made and apologies noted. Members were advised that the meeting had been convened to discuss plans for the next few months. Ms Sinclair, Chairperson asked Gerry Sweeney, Senior Social Worker to speak to his report.

Mr Sweeney advised that although Ryan has had visits home the plan is not for him to return on a full-time basis. He wants out of Geilsland but has no firm plans as to the way ahead. Mr Sweeney felt issues of developing independent living skills, careers advice and employment training would need to be discussed. Options included a move to Garnock Unit within Geilsland or a move to Belsford House, where Ryan could learn the skills needed for independent living, with a view to securing his own flat.

Tom Morman, Keyworker informed that there had not been much improvement in Ryan's behaviour, although at times he is capable of showing maturity. He is wary however in setting him up for a fall due to his lack of responsibility/maturity.

Ranald Mair, Head Teacher stated that within the Garnock unit Ryan would be with a group of boys who were more capable than the boys in Lomond Unit, which would perhaps encourage Ryan to display more mature behaviour when mixing with these boys. Garnock has apartments with the capacity for more self catering. Ryan is nearly 18 and will have to move forward at some stage. A package at Ryan's level will have to be found, potentially use Garnock alongside Throughcare.

Employment/Training Opportunities Possibilities include;

- a) Connect, who visited Ryan and there is a place for him if he wants it.
- b) 16 week pre-employment training course with the emphasis on social skills and identifying areas where the young person wants to work - Ardrossan/Stevenston area.
- c) Newstart Youth Challenge, available for young people looking for jobs - involve 12/16 week programme - £35 per week - operates in King Street, Kilmarnock - Sensible to look in Kilmarnock nearer mum and where Ryan wants to be.

Geilsland School have links with the Careers Department and JHP in Kilmarnock.

LA Tenancy/Private Tenancy

Of the options available, Ryan would prefer to secure his own flat. Mum is willing to support Ryan in this and advised he can be responsible and cooks, cleans etc for himself. A District Council let would be dependant on Social Work Department input and a high level of support. CSV Befriending scheme who could offer support in KLDC tenancy would be a consideration.

Throughcare Project

Ryan attended Through Care Project regularly and did not participate in troublemaking. He missed a week and the impetus was lost. Ryan does not want to go back.

Supervision Order

Ryan would like his Supervision Order to be terminated. It was agreed that if Ryan goes along with a plan for the way ahead, the Panel might feel more happy to remove the order. Mr Mair, Head Teacher advised Ryan can remain in Geilsland if his order was removed. Mr Sweeney was unsure if without the order Ryan would return to Geilsland. Review Group discussed the merits and whether or not Ryan would be entitled to funding without an order, it was decided he would get the same benefits from other areas.

There has been a significant level of contact with Ryan and his family over the year. This has related to home leave/contact, problems in the placement and plans for the future. As part of this there has also been contact with Careers and the Throughcare Project as part of a plan for the future, however Ryan has not been at a stage when he has been ready to move onto employment/training or Throughcare work until recently.

Ryan has some difficulty settling at Geilsland and continues to have problems with home leave. For a significant period at the end of last year and the early part of this year, Ryan's weekend leave was centred at his grandparents. Although a move to his grandparents in the long term was never seen as an available option it has, throughout Ryan's years in care, been an alternative family contact when direct home leave has not been an option. Mrs Ruthven has always agreed that Ryan should have home leave, however Ryan's problematic relationship with Alex Robb has resulted in Ryan choosing not to go on home leave. Home contact has been re-established since the family moved to Gateside Place although it has not been without its problems.

In the school Ryan has made some progress, but it has been slow and there have been periods of difficulty. It was hoped that Ryan would be able to make use of the practical/vocational training opportunities at Geilsland, giving him controlled work experience where he could learn in an environment where his difficulties would be understood and worked with. This has had only limited success as Ryan's commitment has been lacking. For quite some time he saw his future as being in the Army and would not work on other plans. He has now been advised he has not been accepted by the Army and we can now try to progress alternatives for the way ahead.

Ryan constantly states he wants to be off his order and out of Geilsland, however he does not have a plan to make this succeed. This is obviously difficult for him to accept and requires others to continually work with him on accepting this and following through the consequences of this. Despite Ryan's reluctance it is recognised that he continues to need the support of Geilsland in making progress towards appropriate plans for his move into the adult world. As part of this we have linked Ryan to the Throughcare Team and the local Careers office, although it is not expected that Ryan will be able to move to family/independent living or employment/training at this stage.

Despite Ryan's confused view of his future it is clear that Ryan requires continued support and Geilsland seem the best placed to provide the base for this. We would then continue with access to the family as appropriate, look to link Ryan into the Throughcare Project and look at employment/training options with the Careers Service. It is likely however that Ryan will require a more specialist placement such as the "Give and Take Scheme" or some such similar project.

Ryan Ruthven

Although Ryan is now 16 I have no doubt that he requires the continued support of a Supervision Order as he remains vulnerable. Mrs Ruthven appreciated the need for such an order which will help ensure plans can be worked on with Ryan, despite his reluctance or inability to face the reality of his situation consequently it is recommended that Ryan existing Supervision Order naming Geilsland School be continued.

Family Background

Ryan is the oldest of Mrs Ruthven's four children. She has had sole child care responsibility for all the children for most of their life. Mr Ruthven left the family home many years ago as did Mrs Ruthven subsequent partner, a Mr Findlay. Mr Robb has been a part of the family for the past three years, although his relationship with Mrs Ruthven can be volatile and there is a very poor relationship between Ryan and Mr Robb.

The family live in a one bedroom, privately rented ground floor flat in Newmilns. The family lived in the Bellfield/Shortlees area until 1989 when Mrs Ruthven gave up her council house to move away from Mr Findlay, at a time when there was a high degree of tension between them. The family was in a period of crisis at that time, Ryan was already in Kirkmichael House, Lee had been briefly in care and the children were on the Child Protection Register. After a short period in Barrhill, staying with Mr Findlay's father, they returned to Kilmarnock in May 1990 and have been unable to obtain suitable housing. Between May 1990 and November 1991 the family were in homeless accommodation, two caravan parks and in a house rented by Mr Robb before moving to Newmilns. Mrs Ruthven has applied to the council for housing, is not willing to take problem areas and is likely to wait some time for an offer of suitable housing.

Despite the very unsettled nature of the family life over the past few years, in general they seemed to have coped very well. The three younger children although affected by the changes in the household, do not appear to be too badly affected and for long periods Ryan has coped well with the situation. Mrs Ruthven has gone through periods of dejection and some despair at her situation but has usually found the strength to get through these times, however it is clearly very stressful especially for Mrs Ruthven and Ryan.

Mr Robb's involvement with the family is significant, not least because of his poor relationship with Ryan. For periods Mr Robb and Mrs Ruthven seem to get on well although there have been a number of crisis and separations. Mr Robb has usually always kept his own house. Whereas Mrs Ruthven is more easy going with her children, and is usually very accepting of Ryan's behaviour, Mr Robb has more wish to impose rules although these are not always agreed or accepted.

In recent months the family have been experiencing significant problems associated with Ryan and his reaction to situations. He has been unsettled at home and at school, and is now withdrawn from Redbrae, has frequently runaway and has sought out his father in a way which has been difficult for everyone, not least Ryan.

School

Ryan's schooling has always been a problem area. He had significant problems in early primary at St Columba's, was overactive, had a poor concentration span and was prone to wandering off. By the age of nine, Ryan was admitted to Kirkmichael House and stayed there until moving to Redbrae in summer 1992. Ryan made progress at Kirkmichael, although this took a great deal of time to achieve. A well planned and supported plan to reintegrate Ryan to local primary schooling in Kilmarnock was followed through, but it was clear Ryan could not cope with the demands placed on him. Given his age he moved to Redbrae last year. His first year at Redbrae, although not without problems, appeared to be generally successful with summer respite at the school necessary given difficulties at home. Ryan however was involved in running from the school, usually going to Mr Findlay Senior in Barrhill, and stated he was being picked on by other pupils and staff. Attempts were made to resolve these problems but were not successful and Mrs Ruthven withdrew Ryan from Redbrae in early October. At present he is offered tuition for one hour each day at the Child Guidance Clinic with applications made to both Ridgepark and Geilsland Schools.

Child

Ryan is a physically maturing, tall, thin lad, soon to be fifteen. He is immature for his age, often easily distracted and can be frustrating to deal with. However, he has made clear progress of the years in his social and emotional development although still has some way to go. He does not have particular friends or specific long standing interests, although when in the small school setting his abilities can come through. He has been able to spend some time talking through problem areas, however he usually ends this by some sudden behaviour - eg moving away, disrupting papers/changing the subject.

Grounds of Referral

Ryan has been referred as outwith parental control and for four referrals from the Police. The outwith control referral relates to Ryan's behaviour of running away or not coming back home associated with his inability to settle and listen to others concerned. His behaviour is seen to be linked to his rejection of Mr Robb as part of the family, his attitude towards his mother when she appears to side with Mr Robb against Ryan and Ryan's subsequent search for his father.

In respect of the three referrals relating to Barrhill, Ryan had difficulty discussing the specific statements, attempted to discuss all discussion by denial but did accept he was playing in the grounds although he denies trying to enter the house. In respect of the incident in Irvine, Ryan states he had run off from Redbrae with the two other boys but, John, whom Ryan stated was the only one to try to break-in. These matters need to be further clarified.

Despite this however Ryan has avoided offending despite years of problems and there is no basis to believe he will become involved in significant offending behaviour. He places himself at risk of suspicion when he runs off.

Ryan Ruthven

Matters of Particular Concern

- a) Ryan's schooling has been referred to earlier.
- b) Matters relating to Ryan's relationship at home have been highlighted earlier. His poor relationship with Mr Robb, what he might see as his mother's rejection of him and his search for his father are the most significant points to note.
- c) Ryan has always been a boy who has had difficulty settling, maintaining friendships and achieving success. He is still immature and has poor self esteem although he has clearly made some progress over the years this has been counterbalanced by feelings of failure, not least associated with the fact he has required to be in residential care for such a long time. Ryan requires constant encouragement to help deal with this and in particular needs as many positive experiences as possible to offset problem areas.
- d) Ryan was raised believing Mr Ruthven to be his father, although Mr Ruthven took no part in the family, over the summer he found out where Mr Ruthven lived and called at his house, unannounced one evening. He was obviously upset and confused to be told by Mr Ruthven that he was not Ryan's dad. Ryan was then angry with his mum for lying to him and caused anxiety to everyone by pursuing Mr Ruthven, with both families in turmoil. Ryan then discovered details of his biological father but was not able to take advice on how best to deal with this. He again approached the man in question, who does not wish a continuing contact with Ryan. This has caused great distress to Ryan, he is having difficulty accepting this and this has caused further disruption with the families concerned.

Assessment and Possible Options

From all of the above it is clear that Ryan is a child with long standing special needs whose situation has been further complicated by relationships at home problems at school and matters related to the search for his father. Ryan is clearly a young man who is hurt by what is happening to him but is having difficulty dealing with this. Mrs Ruthven has stood by Ryan over years of difficult behaviour but is herself under a great deal of pressure.

Ryan is seen to be in need of compulsory measures of care both to help him and his family to cope with the present situation. He is sixteen in a years time and will have difficulty coping in the adult world. Ryan requires a residential placement which will help him make progress towards developing coping mechanisms to deal with his family situation and the demands placed on young adults by society. Enquiries have been made to two schools Ridgepark in Lanark can offer special provisions for the next year but does not offer support past sixteen. Mrs Ruthven and Ryan are unhappy about the ideas of him going to Lanark but have agreed to visit the school. The Lomond Unit at Geilsland has been considered and the family have visited the school. This Unit is for youths with special needs and offers support past sixteen. However, Ryan may not meet their criteria and there is no certainty of a place being available.

Geilsland offers practical educational provision which could be useful for Ryan however there is some concern as to how he might cope if he was in the ordinary part of Geilsland full time given his personal difficulties and his lack of significant offending. It is hoped that further information will be available by the time of Ryan's Panel.

REVIEW REPORT

RYAN RUTHVEN

PROGRESS SINCE LAST REVIEW:

Since the last review, Ryan has moved unit from Lomond to Cunningham. The move which was discussed at the last review was re-thought in part due to

- 1) Cunningham being better prepared to help Ryan examine self care issues and support him in a training scheme if such a plan was thought appropriate
- 2) The client group in Cunningham is older and more mixed than Garnock. Ryan could have moved from Lomond and settled into a niche within a group of 15-16 year olds who would not have made the demands of him or offered the support that is available within the Cunningham client group
- 3) Ryan seeing the move across the school as the first step to leaving Geilsland.

Ryan has not moved on from the idea he would return to Mum and his future would be pleasant. Many of the residents in Cunningham have worked through this grim process and show that there is life after home. Ryan is in daily contact with these boys and sees how they deal with the situation and how they progress. Ryan has the disadvantage of history in Geilsland. Many in the school remember the antics from the past and are not going to be easily persuaded that they move is going to make any difference to the service offered to Ryan by Geilsland. He has been in Cunningham for less than two months and has exhibited his entire repertoire of behaviour. He has skulked around the campus during school periods, he has used off beat humour to keep people at arm's length, he has failed to return, absconded and collected more charges. What he has failed to do is have himself written off. He has shown he is a skilled manipulator and is always looking for an opportunity to offload his anger and hurt. In Cunningham we are prepared to keep residents to task and Ryan is showing signs of responding. If we use this review to prepare the workload for the next period of Ryan's placement here and give him a timescale in which he has to produce results we may still have success.

Issues to be examined:

- 1 Family relationships
- 2 → Accommodation after Geilsland
- 3 Employment training
- 4 ✓ Offending
- 5 ✗ Father
- 6 Timescale to termination of placement

EDUCATION

Since his move from Lomond to Cunningham, Ryan has had the opportunity to further test his ability to mix with a different peer group in new situations by changing class groups and becoming part of the mainstream within Geilsland. He no longer has to cope with the idea of being different from other residents he comes in daily contact with and appears to be coping with the change.

Feedback from classes suggest much of his disruptive behaviour exhibited while he was part of the Special Needs group was due to Ryan not being held to task by classmates and taking fullest advantage. His present classmates are not so accepting of his behaviour.

HEALTH

Ryan keeps good health. He has medication for acne which he chooses not to take. He continues to have a voracious appetite.

CONCLUSION

If we, as a care team, offer Ryan his choices of alternatives to residential care in a school, employment which will allow him some economic freedom and leave him in no doubt that he has to choose and shouldn't bother to attempt to regress or display the behaviour of old, the writer believes Ryan will start to pull things together and make choices for himself, and enjoy the experience.

HOME ADDRESS 55 LOUDON ROAD, NEWMILNS, AYRSHIRE
DATE OF ADMISSION: 22.08.94
DATE OF REVIEW: 21.09.94

BACKGROUND

Ryan was admitted to Geilsland on the above date. Previous to this he had spells in various children's homes - Kirkmichael, Redbrae, Ridgepark, Dalrymple, Burnside and Warner Street. Referrals being outwith parental control, vandalism and attempted housebreaking.

PROGRESS

Ryan is finding it difficult to mix with the other boys in the unit and, more so, across the school. His approach to staff can be quite pleasant at times but mostly in an adverse manner. This is being monitored and hopefully will be rectified in the near future. On three occasions he has absconded from school and has been returned through the usual channels. This could be put down to apprehension and going through a settling down period.

HEALTH

Ryan seems to enjoy good health, apart from his chest ailment.

SOCIAL SKILLS

Ryan is making slow but steady progress within the unit, personal hygiene and daily chores are carried out without any prompting by staff.

HOME AND FAMILY

Since coming to Geilsland Ryan has had a few visits from his Mum and Co-Habitee, Mr A. Roy, to whom Ryan has a very low opinion, which he has displayed to the Writer in the company of Mr Roy.

Relationships at home seem to have broken down at this stage. On his last visit to Mum's he ended up at his Gran's and was told to leave the next day. He handed himself into the Police and was returned to the school.

Since the past event, Ryan states he does not want to go on leave to his Mum's or to have his Mum visit. After discussion with Social Worker and Ryan's Grandmother, it was concluded that Ryan could stay with Gran each alternate weekend.

I feel Ryan should still be encouraged to visit his Mum.

RECREATION

Ryan enjoys going out on educational outings and the weekly activities programme, etc., and is keen to enter for any sporting challenge.

PERSONAL

Ryan appears to be a bit apprehensive about his placement in Geilsland. He still has to be reminded about his position and not to overstep the boundaries of which he is not aware of.

MATTERS TO BE DISCUSSED

1. Ryan's schooling.
2. Ryan's relationship at home and leave
3. Ryan's personal difficulties.
4. Ryan's search for his Father.
5. Ryan believes he can manipulate Seniors to meet his own ends when faced with authority.

Ryan's order naming Geilsland was continued at his review last June. Despite his age and his stated wish to leave Geilsland it was recognised he was not ready to move towards independence. Work with Ryan has continued on these issues however progress has been slow.

In an effort to help Ryan develop a more mature approach to planning for the future was agreed to change his unit. He moved to Cunningham Unit to be in the company of other young men his age who were also preparing for the move into work and leaving the school.

A plan was agreed for Ryan to work with care staff, throughcare and me on issues related to employment/training and accommodation. This was to be reviewed in April with a possible move from school by summer. Ryan however has requested this review before any real progress has been made. Ryan does not appear to have any realistic idea of what he wishes for the future, however he has consistently stated he does not want to be on a Supervision Order or at Geilsland.

Ryan's contact with his mother has been problematic. The historical problem of Ryan's poor relationship with Alex Robb continues. Mrs Ruthven is accepting of Ryan's contact/visits for periods of time, however his immature behaviour is a source of tension. He has absconded from the school, resulting in the Police calling to Mrs Ruthven's house. This is a source of extreme unhappiness to Mrs Ruthven and results in a breakdown in her contact with Ryan. Mrs Ruthven no longer wishes any contact with the authorities in respect of Ryan.

It remains difficult to propose a positive way forward at this stage. The plan agreed at the last Child in Care Review in February is still seen to be the most appropriate way forward. However, Ryan finds it difficult to work at this, seeking an immediate response to his unhappiness. He has avoided offending for the large part of his period in care, however he was recently charged with making threatening phone calls to his putative father, Mr McDougall. Ryan's feelings about Mr McDougall have been very significant in explaining his unsettled behaviour. Attempts to help Ryan resolve this however have met with little success and he does not approach this productively. The recent involvement of the Police has had the effect of making Ryan think twice about this behaviour, however it does not help him address the underlying problem.

Ryan has requested this review as he wishes to be off supervision and out of Geilsland. At this stage however he has not done the work or achieved a level of maturity that would make this likely to work. I am of the view that Ryan continues to require the support of Geilsland and this department to help him make the transition into adult life. Ryan will want to discuss the option of having his Supervision Order terminated while remaining in Geilsland on a voluntary basis. I have some concern about this as it is likely that Ryan will leave at short notice when frustrated and will be back within days seeking accommodation from this department. I would doubt we could offer any suitable accommodation in that situation, leaving Ryan in a very vulnerable position. However, he is past 17 and there is a limit to how much can be imposed on Ryan or how much progress can be made without his co-operation.

Ryan Ruthven

In the circumstances there needs to be a discussion at the Hearing about the way ahead for Ryan. If it proves too difficult to make a final decision at this point then the case could be continued for a few weeks to see if this can be of help to Ryan in formulating plans for the future.

CHILD CARE REVIEW

RE: RYAN RUTHVEN

DATE OF BIRTH: 31/12/78

DATE OF ADMISSION: 22/8/94

HOME ADDRESS: 2 GATESIDE PLACE, KILMARNOCK.

PROGRESS SINCE LAST REVIEW

It is evident to the writer on perusal of previous review reports compiled by Ryan's former keyworker, Richard Lindsay, that in many areas of Ryan's life there has been very limited progress. Indeed it is a consensus among staff that Ryan may be on the brink of regression, certainly in areas such as presentation of self as a young adult and in the formal education setting of the school (see circulating educational report).

Bearing the above in mind it may appear puzzling to learn that Ryan is capable of maintaining a mature, rational and pleasant conversation with staff members albeit limited to a one-to-one situation. This suggests to the writer an inability on Ryan's part to relate constructively to his peers. Although the social environment of Lomond Unit perhaps does not at time lend itself to stimulating, mature interaction, the writer would suggest that being part of a more immature peer group actually appeals to Ryan. If Ryan is to prepare himself for his adult life ahead, he may benefit from being (reluctantly) pulled into a seventeen/eighteen years olds world.

An area which the writer finds encouraging is the more positive attitude shown towards vocational education, not only is Ryan quite enthusiastic towards the engineering workshop but also is reported to be proficient in, for example, welding. How his skills transfer to an eventual workplace situation is not clear, however, it does display an ability to concentrate on given tasks.

HEALTH

Ryan keeps in good health generally. He is currently prescribed Amoxycillin and Doxycycline for a chest infection.

EDUCATION (See circulating reports)

Generally poor performance in classroom setting, often Ryan is capable of carrying out given educational tasks but shows little or no inclination to do so. Can be very disruptive in class, not appearing to be concerned about prejudicing other people's chances of learning.

FAMILY CONTACT/HOME LEAVE

Ryan has consistently shown that he is capable of sustaining weekend leave with Mrs. Ruthven and Mr. Robb, going home on Friday and returning on Sunday or Monday. Equally Ryan has consistently shown that he is not willing to do this and returns either hours later than planned or on occasions a day late. Ryan puts his rather irregular leave arrangements down to tensions between himself and Mr. Robb.

Although the pattern of leave could be described as erratic, the writer believes that Ryan has and is continuing to work at making his visits home enjoyable and productive. What has tended to come across from Ryan relatively recently is a realisation that perhaps a return home on a full-time basis may not necessarily be the most prudent plan to hold. Here the writer would concur in proposing sustaining visits to the family home whilst pursuing alternative accommodation.

To this purpose Ryan has attended a 'Throughcare' project in Saltcoats, and although attendance has recently been patchy, it is hoped he will resume enthusiastically in the New Year.

RYAN

Ryan has made it clear to the writer that he would like to see the following points given high profile:

1. Leave Geilsland by Summer 1996.
2. Changes Section 44(1)(b) to Section 15 as soon as possible.
3. Find a place to live.
4. Find employment.
5. Maintain contact with family.
6. Day passes.

POINTS FOR DISCUSSION

The writer believes that discussion on the following may prove useful in setting out clear plans for Ryan to work within;

1. Proposed move from Lomond Unit to Garnock Unit.
2. Timescale for embarking on Employment Training or Pre-Employment Training e.g. Connect.
3. Absconding and failure to return from leave and consequences of both for Social Work Department, family, Ryan and Geilsland.

CONCLUSION

As suggested in the first section of this report it has been increasingly evident that the environment in Lomond Unit is not a positive one with respect of Ryan's emotional development. The Garnock Unit of Geilsland School has been identified as a possible positive transition in Ryan's life at present, the more mature residents there providing a more realistic peer group model for him. It is in no way the intention of the writer to suggest that Ryan has failed in Lomond or that Lomond has failed Ryan, rather that it would be responding to Ryan's changing needs to blindly persevere in Lomond Unit for another x number of months until Ryan is eighteen years of age.

Apology

Ms Leonard

Senior Residential Worker

Mr Thomson affected introduction and welcomed all to the review. It was established that Ryan had been made aware of the content of the review reports prior to the meeting. School reports were issued and the review commenced with Mr Thomson restating the Aims of Placement.

Particular discussions centred principally on two areas : a) Ryan wandering off from school and b) improved weekends at home.

With regards to "wandering" from school it was established that Ryan had had one absconction when he made it from school to home. This occurred within the first fortnight of placement. Following on from this there have been two instances of Ryan leaving school grounds but returning shortly on his own. Mr Sweeney indicated that compared to previous placement, this represented a dramatic improvement.

According to Mrs Ruthven the situation at home regarding wandering off has not been in evidence since Christmas. Other examples of how things have improved included : an ability to demonstrate keeping to time schedule conditions; an ability to be responsible when left at home at weekends when Mum and family go out. Mr Sweeney confirmed this responsible attitude when he had visited the home on Friday 18 February. There have, however, been occasions when a neighbour has contacted Police to complain about music being played too loudly.

Mrs Ruthven also stated that she and Alec were operating a more united front towards the children and that this was helpful.

With/

With regards Ryan's relationship with Alec, it was noted that this was not without difficulty. Although Alec acknowledges that things are a "wee bit" better he admits to finding it difficult to praise Ryan. Essentially, Alec feels that Ryan has to be controlled. Mum and Alec, however, did confirm that Ryan likes to be helpful and cited examples of Ryan going to the shop for Alec and making tea and sandwiches for Alec as confirmation.

With regards to her own previously stated goals, Mrs Ruthven confirmed that she has now secured a Nursery placement for Danielle commencing in April.

Discussion at this stage moved to looking at Ryan's relationship with Alec and Ronnie Thomson felt that Alec could be significant as a male figure for Ryan if both could accept one another better. After discussion Alec agreed to visit Ryan at school every Wednesday morning and spend time with Ryan on a structured outing.

School

Mrs Henderson began by stating that all staff found something likeable about Ryan. In particular she instanced that he could be good humoured. However, she did indicate that Ryan was still experiencing difficulty in accepting school limits and structures. Relationships with peers were another area of difficulty - this was related in part to the "fantastic" tales that Ryan could tell. The main point, she felt however, was Ryan's need to exorcise the unreality of his natural father reclaiming Ryan. Mrs Henderson sought for Mrs Ruthven's permission to legitimise opportunities for Ryan to talk about his feelings in this matter. Reluctantly, Mrs Ruthven agreed. Discussion took place regarding work experience and Mrs Henderson undertook to contact V A M W regarding a possible place as from Easter.

Unit

Margaret Hendry reported a similar situation to Mrs Henderson adding that Ryan was not a malicious boy. She noted that he was showing slight signs of gaining the ability to sustain himself at activities for longer periods.

Decisions

- 1 Ryan to remain as a residential pupil.
- 2 Previously stated aims still remain in force plus the acceptance by all of the need for Ryan to be encouraged to openly discuss his feelings regarding his natural father.
- 3 Alec to visit on Wednesday mornings 10.30 am - structured activity with Ryan.

- 4 Alec to supervise other children on alternate Wednesday evenings to allow Mum opportunity to visit.
- 5 Mrs Henderson to approach VA M W regarding a work experience placement.

Next review to be held on 12 May 1994 at 2.30 pm.

MAIN BODY OF REPORT

Points to be covered.

1. Nature and extent of contact with the child, family and other persons or agencies.
2. Plan of work; Were the Aims and Objectives achieved? Were they changed or modified?
3. Opinion as to the future development of the child and his/her situation— including views of child/parents.
4. Possible options.

Family Background

Ryan is the oldest of Mrs Ruthven's four children. She has had sole child care responsibility for all the children for most of their life. Mr Ruthven left the family home many years ago as did Mrs Ruthven subsequent partner, a Mr Findlay. Mr Robb has been a part of the family for the past three years, although his relationship with Mrs Ruthven can be volatile and there is a very poor relationship between Ryan and Mr Robb.

The family live in a one bedroom, privately rented ground floor flat in Newmilns. The family lived in the Bellfield/Shortlees area until 1989 when Mrs Ruthven gave up her council house to move away from Mr Findlay, at a time when there was a high degree of tension between them. The family was in a period of crisis at that time, Ryan was already in Kirkmichael House, Lee had been briefly in care and the children were on the Child Protection Register. After a short period in Barrhill, staying with Mr Findlay's father, they returned to Kilmarnock in May 1990 and have been unable to obtain suitable housing. Between May 1990 and November 1991 the family were in homeless accommodation, two caravan parks and in a house rented by Mr Robb before moving to Newmilns. Mrs Ruthven has applied to the council for housing, is not willing to take problem areas and is likely to wait some time for an offer of suitable housing.

Despite the very unsettled nature of the family life over the past few years, in general they seemed to have coped very well. The three younger children although affected by the changes in the household, do not appear to be too badly affected and for long periods Ryan has coped well with the situation. Mrs Ruthven has gone through periods of dejection and some despair at her situation but has usually found the strength to get through these times, however it is clearly very stressful especially for Mrs Ruthven and Ryan.

Mr Robb's involvement with the family is significant, not least because of his poor relationship with Ryan. For periods Mr Robb and Mrs Ruthven seem to get on well although there have been a number of crisis and separations. Mr Robb has usually always kept his own house. Whereas Mrs Ruthven is more easy going with her children, and is usually very accepting of Ryan's behaviour, Mr Robb has more wish to impose rules although these are not always agreed or accepted.

In recent months the family have been experiencing significant problems associated with Ryan and his reaction to situations. He has been unsettled at home and at school, and is now withdrawn from Redbrae, has frequently runaway and has sought out his father in a way which has been difficult for everyone, not least Ryan.

School

Ryan's schooling has always been a problem area. He had significant problems in early primary at St Columba's, was overactive, had a poor concentration span and was prone to wandering off. By the age of nine, Ryan was admitted to Kirkmichael House and stayed there until moving to Redbrae in summer 1992. Ryan made progress at Kirkmichael, although this took a great deal of time to achieve. A well planned and supported plan to reintegrate Ryan to local primary schooling in Kilmarnock was followed through, but it was clear Ryan could not cope with the demands placed on him. Given his age he moved to Redbrae last year. His first year at Redbrae, although not without problems, appeared to be generally successful with summer respite at the school necessary given difficulties at home. Ryan however was involved in running from the school, usually going to Mr Findlay Senior in Barrhill, and stated he was being picked on by other pupils and staff. Attempts were made to resolve these problems but were not successful and Mrs Ruthven withdrew Ryan from Redbrae in early October. At present he is offered tuition for one hour each day at the Child Guidance Clinic with applications made to both Ridgepark and Geilsland Schools.

Child

Ryan is a physically maturing, tall, thin lad, soon to be fifteen. He is immature for his age, often easily distracted and can be frustrating to deal with. However, he has made clear progress of the years in his social and emotional development although still has some way to go. He does not have particular friends or specific long standing interests, although when in the small school setting his abilities can come through. He has been able to spend some time talking through problem areas, however he usually ends this by some sudden behaviour - eg moving away, disrupting papers/changing the subject.

Grounds of Referral

Ryan has been referred as outwith parental control and for four referrals from the Police. The outwith control referral relates to Ryan's behaviour of running away or not coming back home associated with his inability to settle and listen to others concerned. His behaviour is seen to be linked to his rejection of Mr Robb as part of the family, his attitude towards his mother when she appears to side with Mr Robb against Ryan and Ryan's subsequent search for his father.

In respect of the three referrals relating to Barrhill, Ryan had difficulty discussing the specific statements, attempted to discuss all discussion by denial but did accept he was playing in the grounds although he denies trying to enter the house. In respect of the incident in Irvine, Ryan states he had run off from Redbrae with the two other boys but, John, whom Ryan stated was the only one to try to break-in. These matters need to be further clarified.

Despite this however Ryan has avoided offending despite years of problems and there is no basis to believe he will become involved in significant offending behaviour. He places himself at risk of suspicion when he runs off.

Ryan Ruthven

Matters of Particular Concern

- a) Ryan's schooling has been referred to earlier.
- b) Matters relating to Ryan's relationship at home have been highlighted earlier. His poor relationship with Mr Robb, what he might see as his mother's rejection of him and his search for his father are the most significant points to note.
- c) Ryan has always been a boy who has had difficulty settling, maintaining friendships and achieving success. He is still immature and has poor self esteem although he has clearly made some progress over the years this has been counterbalanced by feelings of failure, not least associated with the fact he has required to be in residential care for such a long time. Ryan requires constant encouragement to help deal with this and in particular needs as many positive experiences as possible to offset problem areas.
- d) Ryan was raised believing Mr Ruthven to be his father, although Mr Ruthven took no part in the family, over the summer he found out where Mr Ruthven lived and called at his house, unannounced one evening. He was obviously upset and confused to be told by Mr Ruthven that he was not Ryan's dad. Ryan was then angry with his mum for lying to him and caused anxiety to everyone by pursuing Mr Ruthven, with both families in turmoil. Ryan then discovered details of his biological father but was not able to take advice on how best to deal with this. He again approached the man in question, who does not wish a continuing contact with Ryan. This has caused great distress to Ryan, he is having difficulty accepting this and this has caused further disruption with the families concerned.

Assessment and Possible Options

From all of the above it is clear that Ryan is a child with long standing special needs whose situation has been further complicated by relationships at home problems at school and matters related to the search for his father. Ryan is clearly a young man who is hurt by what is happening to him but is having difficulty dealing with this. Mrs Ruthven has stood by Ryan over years of difficult behaviour but is herself under a great deal of pressure.

Ryan is seen to be in need of compulsory measures of care both to help him and his family to cope with the present situation. He is sixteen in a years time and will have difficulty coping in the adult world. Ryan requires a residential placement which will help him make progress towards developing coping mechanisms to deal with his family situation and the demands placed on young adults by society. Enquiries have been made to two schools Ridgemark in Lanark can offer special provisions for the next year but does not offer support past sixteen. Mrs Ruthven and Ryan are unhappy about the ideas of him going to Lanark but have agreed to visit the school. The Lomond Unit at Geilsland has been considered and the family have visited the school. This Unit is for youths with special needs and offers support past sixteen. However, Ryan may not meet their criteria and there is no certainty of a place being available.

Geilsland offers practical educational provision which could be useful for Ryan however there is some concern as to how he might cope if he was in the ordinary part of Geilsland full time given his personal difficulties and his lack of significant offending. It is hoped that further information will be available by the time of Ryan's Panel.

APOLOGIES Bellsford House

Mr Stewart informed the meeting that since Ryan's review he had been moved from Crosshouse Hospital to Newfield.

Ms Jeffers explained that herself and staff from Newfield had got together to draw up a plan for Ryan as the Housing Department had said that this would be required before they could offer Ryan a house. Since the meeting a house has become available, although it is not known when the house will be ready for Ryan, due to the previous owner's condition. Christine feels that this will be the best thing that the Council will offer Ryan, and there is a possibility of the house being furnished. Mr Stewart stated that he feels that the accommodation will be offered fairly quickly, and the plans for Ryan's support need to be made.

Ms Gray expressed a wish to hear a bit about Ryan's background as she was not familiar with the case. Ms Jeffers explained that Ryan has been in Care for years, she feels that he is thought of as a pest, and the time anybody can spend in his company is limited. Ms Jeffers was of the opinion that all of Ryan's supports would need to be of a fairly consistent nature.

Ms McColgan stated that the Housing Department had become aware of Ryan when he was in homeless and accommodated in New St Hostel. She stated that Ryan who is now 17½, has been known to be involved in criminal behaviour, and also very anxious behaviour in Bellsford House. She added that he can be okay and cooperative when working with him on a one to one basis. Ms Jeffers added that Ryan often wants people to get things for him and as soon as they do he changes his mind and doesn't want them and works out ways in which to have them stopped. Ms McColgan added that at times Ryan's behaviour can be quite extreme. She stated that Ryan needs his own accommodation with lots of support. Ms Sharpe stated that it would be impossible for 24 hour support to be given. Mr Stewart implied that time limited support would be preferable as Ryan has a tendency to play to an audience.

Ms Jeffers felt that Ryan needs to be given his own space because at the moment he is very institutionalised. Ms McColgan is of the opinion that Ryan needs support so that so that there is somebody watching out for him, but at the same time if Ryan starts any of his nonsense then they can leave. Ms Jeffers is unsure about whether or not Ryan is going to be able to live in the community, and feels that there will be an need to keep close tabs on him.

Ms Gray questioned whether or Not Ryan will accept the support given. Ms Jeffers said that he would, she added that he might say that he won't but when it comes down to it he will.

Ms Duffy asked what was likely to happen to Ryan if he wasn't given a place in the community. Ms Jeffers answered that he would probably end up in jail, and has stated on a few occasions that he would like this.

Ms McColgan voiced that Ryan having been in care has lived most of his life with other people but is now showing signs that this is impossible for him. Ms Jeffers added to this statement that Ryan doesn't get on well with other young people. Ms McColgan informed that Ryan can be taken advantage off.

Ms Sharpe asked if Ryan was involved in any other professional relationships. It was reported that Ryan has been seeing John Jamieson, Psychologist, but this was in its early stages.

Mr Stewart stated that they would need to get something down on paper about the support that Ryan will be given. Ms Sharpe was of the opinion that Ryan should be more prepared before moving into his own place.

It was noted that Ryan would need the support of a few people but there would need to be a balance.

Ms McColgan informed of Ryan's sexualised behaviour in Bellsford, bothering female staff, ie lying with no clothes on when they came into the room.

Ms Gray thought it would be more appropriate for Ryan to have a male worker.

Mr Stewart stated that he was concerned about this, had not realised that Ryan's sexualized behaviour had caused a problem at Bellsford. Ms Jeffers stated she also had an issue regarding her role, but would deal with this outwith the Planning Meeting.

Ms Duffy informed that she would have a problem with sending women in to have to deal with this kind of behaviour. Ms Gray thought that a young person would have more problems with this than if a mature person was to go in. Ms Sharpe agreed with this. Ms Jeffers stated that it would be likely that Ryan would not behave like this with a mature person.

Mr Drummond was asked if there had been any behaviour like this while Ryan had been at Newfield. Mr Drummond reported that there had been one instance with one of the night staff but the woman involved had sorted it out by herself. He also stated that he has seen the other behaviour that has been discussed, and he feels that Ryan needs independence. He added that management at Newfield would like a date for Ryan leaving as soon as possible.

Ms Jeffers felt that this sexual behaviour was new for Ryan, Ms McColgan stated that he had behaved in this way at Geilsland.

Ms Sharpe informed that her reason for being here was to establish whether or not there was a necessity for Kare Ayrshire to be involved, feels that Ryan needs a work programme.

Mr Stewart felt that Ryan needs help to ensure that all practical things are done, someone to help with shopping and make sure Ryan eats proper meals. One morning and one evening visit a day would be best.

Ms Jeffers asked what Bellsford could offer. Ms McColgan stated that they could offer 1½ hours in the morning, 1½ hours in the evening, they would not be able to pin point a specific time and Ryan would need to be flexible, Bellsford would need to be consulted.

Ms Sharpe thought that somebody should be going in the morning to ensure that Ryan is up, perhaps Home Help Service.

It was felt that Bellsford should set a day aside to help Ryan with his shopping and paying the bills. Ms McColgan thought it would be best in that case instead of splitting the time to morning and evening, they would spend 3 hours at a time with him, although she would need to check with George Stewart to okay this.

Mr Stewart stated that Ryan could have home help service and Bellsford would help with Shopping and bills. Ms Sharpe felt that if Ryan does not cooperate there will be a total breakdown of the support.

Ms Gray felt that a male worker would be more appropriate and she had a sessional worker in mind but she would need to check that he could fit into the times needed.

Ms McColgan feels that Ryan needs to have certain tasks to do each day by himself, and that time should be given for him to cope on his own.

Mr Stewart asked if all the ideas could start to be pulled together, times etc.

Ms Gray suggested that home help should go in and prompt Ryan to get up and get things done. Ms Sharpe suggested that someone from Kare Ayrshire should go in at teatime to ensure that Ryan has a decent meal. Kare Ayrshire would go in five night out of seven, and the Home Helps would go in from Monday to Friday.

Mr Stewart thought that the sessional worker would be more useful at night to get Ryan out roughly 2 night per week and it is important that Ryan realises that he is financially responsible for this.

Mr Stewart also found it necessary for Ryan's mum to have a copy of the plan that is made up for Ryan so that she can help to ensure that Ryan is sticking to it.

Ms Gray thought that the home help could go in around 10.30 although this could be flexible.

Ms Jeffers felt that it was important for any of the supports involved to contact her on a regular basis if any news on Ryan.

The following was agreed:

- 1) Bellsford House staff would offer support twice daily, for 1½ hours each time to inform Christine/Michael on exact times on a weekly basis in advance.
- 2) Home Help support would be available to cover practical tasks within the house (i.e. general chores) this would be time limited and task centred. (Mornings)
- 3) Kare Ayrshire would ensure that Ryan was preparing one meal a day and offer assistance as required. (Evenings)
- 4) Ruth Gray would speak to Sessional Worker about possible twice weekly social contact with Ryan.
- 5) Christine/Michael would coordinate service input and liaise with Ryan regarding any adjustments made.
- 6) Initial plan to be reviewed after a 3 week period.

Ryan eventually settled and was allowed back out into the unit.

Ryan was accompanied by Gerry-Sweeney S.S.W and Michael Stuart (resource worker) when being admitted. Upon leaving N/F over 2 weeks ago he returned to Belford House. However, his behaviour and attitude was very poor there and he was physically and verbally abusive to staff. After approx. 2 days he was admitted to ward 1D psychiatric ward of Crosshouse hospital complaining that he was hearing

Ryan's behaviour at times totally inappropriate for someone his age, seems to enjoy the company of Mark. He functions much better when the numbers in the group are small. He went into Paisley to buy C.D's however got lost and came back. I think Ryan likes the idea of having money to spend, but does not put it into practice. He does not like being told what to do, his language at times quite unacceptable.

Ryan can be quite mature. He admitted he could neither afford a flat or live on his own at this moment in time. But seems to think that this situation would be resolved as he "has a number of conf connections against him and he would be going to secure accommodation". We discussed the differences between Secure, young offenders institutions and Prison. Ryan is very confused and concerned about his future. We also discussed appropriate behaviour and what is expected of him. Ryan said he would like to stay here. We discussed the pros and cons of this and that this is a short-term placement. I walked him to the Top of the drive to ensure he was off the premises, he is walking into Johnston and will be back for 3.00 He has no money.

	26.7. Ryan really unsettled L/S. Since he returned from store. Said he had a bottle of "MOCK" while out he then asked to go out for fresh air and on returning again stated he had VODKA. I explained to Ryan the effects of alcohol and a step by step account of the dangers of large amounts of 'straight' alcohol and legal age limit he didn't appear to be aware of this either. He has been a real pest all evening but by no means dangerous.

	advised that he may feel better if he went off to bed. He refused. Once the video started he relaxed & settled to watch it. One minute he enjoyed the film & the next he hated it, he was at his stage laugh, manageable. He discussed the film & enjoyed putting forward his ideas about aliens etc. When Ryan went off to bed he lay & chatted to Mark, this was, at first acceptable. Later though after being asked to quieten down, Ryan became very annoyed. When Wiles entered the dorm Ryan was returning to his bed (he was naked & was not in the least put out at my seeing him). He was also talking about Mark & his working Maggie etc. Ryan had to be removed from the dorm to allow Mark to sleep. When duty senior was talking to Ryan he misinterpreted to abscond several times. Wiles felt this was a bluff & he was seeking staff attention. Ryan did abscond, but was only out in the grounds for 10-15 minutes. Ryan was again spoken to by S/S. Ryan's unpredictable behaviour & seeking of staff attention appears to be becoming more frequent. Ryan has problems taking staff instruction seriously, finally settled at 2.45am. Checked by S/S at 4.00am & by Wiles throughout shift.	Ryan wishes to express a bizarre dangerous character. His performance is rendered unconvincing by his transparent inadequacy and desperate desire for attention. I have attempted to convey to him that his refusal to co-operate reasonably makes it difficult for us to care for him. Alun

This enabled others to settle. Ryan returned to unit at 1:00am & had something to eat before going to bed. He settled soon after entering the dorm. Ryan presented himself in an adult fashion. Duty senior relayed that he was rational & capable throughout their time together. It has been stressed to Ryan by both writer & D/S that his time was a "one off" Ryan must learn to adapt to unit environment & staff instruction. Writer fears that Ryan may get into a habit of expecting preferential treatment. It isn't feasible for writer to give Ryan the one to one attention he craves, due to other children's needs. I asked Ryan why he was so demanding of male staff attention at night, and how difficult he was going to find it was to adjust when he is in his own flat. Ryan said he is used to being up late. I told him he was very fortunate that the unit was not fully occupied, and that at present as he was the only one in his bedroom then this kind of behavior was manageable and did not interrupt other sleep. Ryan did not seem to grasp this concept, however he did look suitably embarrassed when I told him that his demand for attention, especially at night was not what would be expected of someone who is about to move into his own tenancy.

On return to the group, his behaviour became progressively difficult, swearing, verbal abuse at peers, and behaviour, such as mock fighting, which was disturbing and unsettling the group. 	He again ran from the dorm and was caught up with at staff station and returned to the dorm. I attempted to calm him down but he became increasingly increasingly abusive and threatening. Despite efforts to alternately talk him down and withdraw he continued to behave in a threatening way and I felt it necessary to briefly restrain him. This was initially difficult and Ryan received a carpet burn to his right knee. Once restrained he immediately quietened and almost immediately I was able to release him. I offered to treat his knee which was refused. He also refused to engage in conversation beyond verbal abuse and he announced he was chewing and was leaving. Kenneth Drummond attempted to speak with him and although calming down he still announced his intention to leave. M. Sticking D/S soon took Ryan from the unit for a talk. On return Ryan was more calm and began to settle. However he did not remove his day clothes till about 12.30am and was awake till about 12.30am. 28/8/96	E/S. Ryan up before we came on shift, quite agitated and worried that he is moving into his own tenancy on Thursday! I asked Ryan what he did with the Train fares he got yesterday as it was impossible to travel from N/F to Kilmarnock and back in 1 1/2 hours and spend time with his mother. Noting that Ryan had a new hair cut, it appeared obvious what he did with the money. Ryan was suitably embarrassed and admitted to getting his mother to Sic for him. We discussed the issue of trust which Ryan found difficult to conceptualise. I've told him that we can assume he has had his pocket money in advance and therefore he will not have any on Friday, he has agreed to this.

16-9-98	4/5. Ryan a little apprehensive at the start of the shift due to his Mother visiting. The writer spoke with Ryan in an effort to calm him. Mrs Ruthven duly visited this did not go well and Ryan left the unit. Mrs Ruthven spoke with the writer about the situation with Ryan and Pamela. Mrs Ruthven appeared to be laying the blame with Pamela rather than Ryan. After this the visit ended as Ryan had walked out because his Mother was talking to the writer. Ryan arrived back about 8.50pm, changed into PJs and was having supper. Ryan became a bit loud and agitated. The writer asked Ryan to go to his room. We spoke for a few minutes but it was clear that Ryan was not in the mood to listen. The writer left Ryan in his room for a few minutes before talking with him again. Ryan then rejoined the group on finished his supper. At time of writing Ryan watching T.V. J. Houghton	mmg

Efforts to return him were futile as he continually walked away to Johnstone. At one point, he was in the grounds in the company of Kevin (Kilpatrick). Prior to lunch writer found Ryan at rear of building & returned him to the unit.
