Child's Name	Address in Care	Date of Birth
Andrew Jones	Roineach Mhor	26.12.69

1. Reaction to present position Andrew accepts his present position and is very aware of the situation. He has settled down well in Roineach Mhor and enjoys the security offered to him.

2. Attitude to staff Quite friendly and talkative with staff, he does not present any problems with behaviour although can be very moody when not getting his own way.

3. Relationships with other children Mixes in well with other children and is well liked, has not made any close relationship with any one in particular. Although his two sisters are in Roineach Mhor he does not seem to shield or protect them.

4. Reaction to authority Accepts authority without much problem, although he is a boy who needs strict boundaries to keep him in check, still needs to be told twice to do things and is huffy if things don't suit him.

5. Contact with and attitude to own family Mum visits. Andrew's attitude to his mother seems to be mixed, some times saying he does not want to go home and other times he wants to go home, also very reluctant to speak about his mum.

10. Any Additional Comments Andrew does quite well in Roineach Mhor, he seems to be enjoying the security of the staff and the unit, he also does quite well at outside school. However Andrew does not present much problems in the unit, and is well liked amongst his peers, but owing to the present circumstances of the home problems, it is felt it will be a long process of introducing Andrew back home, this would be monitored carefully until the home situation is ready for Andrew to return.
