02/09/2025 Telephone encounter anxiety worse recently. Going on hol weekend, flying, more anxious due to this, barely leaves the house. Got the hol as present. Not sleeping well as worrying, taking ages to switch off, then struggling to get out for the school run. Use diazepam in the past. Has been building up. Has the number for the hub and will contact when back. ,Not asthmatic, advised propranolol - needs BP and pulse check. leaves for hol 5/09. Booked appt for pulse and BP check then I can do script -please task me as I am in on Thursday and will do script. CS Dr Claire Smith

29/08/2025 Administration Thank you for your recent eConsult request. I was not able to get in touch with your this afternoon on the phone. Sorry to hear you have been struggling with anxiety a lot recently. You were requesting diazepam to try and help. This is generally something I try to avoid if possible due to its sedating effects and potential addiction issues. We would certainly not prescribe this for flying, and you mentioned this in your econsult. Another option would be propranolol, but we would need to check your heart rate and blood pressure before starting you on something like this, and the local wellbeing hub can help with talking therapies for anxiety. Their number is 01506652267, and it may be worth contacting them directly. In the meantime I will ask our team to get in touch with you to make an appointment to discuss your anxiety with one of the doctors or the practice mental health nurse. Many thanks, Dr Constable Dr Katherine Constable

28/04/2021 Telephone encounter S - Practice mental health nurse outbound call - To discuss increase in symptoms of anxiety A - Spoke to Gillian today, reports increase in her anxiety/panic levels since starting to come back out of lockdown, so extreme she has had to run out of shops etc and arranges for others to collect her daughter from school. Prev seen abck in 2018 by psychology but did not engage very well, long history of childhood trauma and CSA, exacerbated at present after death of mum as she realises she will never get some of the answers she feels she needs. Discussion about the importance of her continuing to expose herself regularly by ensuring she does do the school runs/collections and then gradually try to introduce small achievable tasks at intervals. Encouraged to return to using the strategies she would have learned from psychology. Agreed to send some info on wellbeing scotland to look over incase she wishes to revisit past abuse. R - issue info on wellbeing scotland and cruise bereavement agency Ms Carol Wilson

26/03/2012 E-mail received from consultant Dear Dr McNutt Since our community service covers 10,000 live births per year and 10-15% of women suffer low mood or anxiety perinatally we must rely on GPs to manage patients who have mild to moderate depressive illness in pregnancy. The RCOG guidelines state: Women identified as suffering from current mild to moderate illness, and those with previous depressive/anxiety disorders treated only in primary care, should be referred to their GP in the first instance. To minimise the risk of harm to the fetus or child, drugs should be prescribed cautiously. As a result, thresholds for non-drug treatments, particularly psychological treatments, are likely to be lower than those set in NICE clinical guidelines on specific mental disorders. For women who develop mild/moderate depression or anxiety during pregnancy, self-help strategies (guided self-help, computerised cognitive behavioural therapy or exercise) should be considered. Local protocols should be in place to assist maternity services to refer such women to their GP for further assessment. From your assessment it does not sound as if this is a woman with biological symptoms of a significant depressive illness at this stage requiring secondary care. She also fortunately has no past history of psychiatric illness which might put her at increased risk of puerperal mental illness, which would be another reason I would often meet with patients in pregnancy. I will not arrange to see her at present but I have attached a handout about prescription of antidepressants in pregnancy that may be of use if this is an option you are considering with her. Please do get back in touch with me if you have concerns or feel she cannot be managed in primary care. Many thanks, Fiona Dr Fiona Murray Consultant Psychiatrist Perinatal Mental Health Service Dr Andrew McNutt

23/03/2012 E-mail received from consultant Dear Dr McNutt Re: Gillian McAteer (23/5/82) Many thanks for your referral of this lady who is currently not coping with her pregnancy. As our service is aimed at women with significant mental illness it would be helpful to know more than this about the patient's presentation before we can triage her case. Does she have biological symptoms of depression? Are there symptoms of other mental illness? What would you be hoping our service could offer her? Many thanks, Fiona Dr Fiona Murray Consultant Psychiatrist Perinatal Mental Health Service Dr Andrew McNutt

Medication

Sertraline 150mg OD
Diazepam 2mg PRN up to TID

Presenting Complaint

Gillian was referred to ACAST following an assessment at A&E with Dr Smith. She had presented with suicidal ideation. She was visited at home by Lorraine McGuinness and Michael Griffiths. She advised that the following issues had caused her mental health to breakdown:

1. Problems with benefits
2. Problems with sick pay from work
3. Her 2 daughters are living with their dad and Gillian is missing them
4. Feels stressed due to the above

MSE

Gillian was an overweight woman who was dressed in joggy bottoms and a black vest top. She was clean and tidy. A rapport was easily established. Her communication was spontaneous and tone, volume and rate were all within normal limits. She maintained eye contact, did not appear anxious; but slightly agitated when discussing some of the above issues. Her mood appeared euthymic. She said she is not eating well as she collects her food from a food bank; and her 4 year daughters is her priority. There was no evidence of thought disorder, perceptual disturbances or delusional ideation. Her concentration was intact and she was orientated to time, place and person. She denied any suicidal plans and advised her daughter would be the protective factor. She was making plans to arrange counselling. She has insight into the effects of stress on her mood; and is dealing with this.

Impression

Gillian is a woman who has many different stressors in her life that she is trying to manage without the dulling effect of alcohol and drug abuse. She has many supports in place and is able to identify useful resources.

Plan:

- refer to ACAST for crisis support and assessment
- please could you arrange for her to have an appointment with Dr Heath if possible

Dear Doctor,

I saw Mrs McAteer in SJH A&E on 02/09/16. She presents with suicidal ideation in the context of multiple social stressors.

Currently her mood is low, sleep is very poor, and she is eating erratically - this is exacerbated by her dependence at present on the local food bank, and she has been prioritising the nutrition of her 4 year old daughter.

Over the past week and a half she has been feeling "What is the point of being here" and ruminating about taking an overdose to "go to sleep and get away from my problems". She says that she would not do this as she is too scared, and also acknowledges her children as protective factors.

In the past year her two eldest children have gone to live with their father, and she has not had contact with them until last Thursday. She found that they had changed a lot over the past few months and feels distressed that she perceives herself to have let them down by being unable to look after them. She is next due to see them tomorrow and is unsure if she can face doing this, although she does want to rebuild her relationship with them.

Recently she has also had financial difficulties due to an investigation into her child support payments and is consequently in debt; she is receiving support from a council worker once weekly and they are helping her to resolve this.

She has regular support from a Circle worker with WLDAS who did want her to come to A&E yesterday; Mrs McAteer dislikes being told what to do, as she perceived this, and so preferred to come on her own today. She normally works with a worker [REDACTED] who has been off work for the past three weeks.

She also finds herself socially isolated; her relationship with her mother is turbulent and she describes her friends as "not real friends - only really interested in the party scene" and not interested in providing emotional support. She has also been self isolating as finding she does not have the energy to see other people.

Currently she is drinking around once a week.

MSE:

Mrs McAteer presented as an appropriately dressed and poorly kempt woman in her thirties. She made reasonably good eye contact, her posture was slumped and she was tearful throughout the entirety of our consultation. Her speech was of normal rate and rhythm. There was no evidence of formal thought disorder or responding to abnormal stimuli. She is troubled by thoughts of wanting to not be here any more and of taking an overdose to sleep and never wake up. She has insight into her mental state and the causes of this. Cognition was not formally assessed but she was oriented to TPP.

Plan:

I discussed her situation with consultant psychiatrist Dr Barrington and formulated a plan of action. I have provided her with a seven day script for chlorpromazine 50mg nocte to aid sleep. We will refer her to ACAST for crisis support and assessment, rather than admitting her at this stage, and they will liaise with Dr Barrington who is the sector psychiatric consultant. She is also very keen to see Dr Heath, who she had previously built up a working relationship with that she found very helpful. She has been finding it difficult to make an appointment as I gather Dr Heath is unavoidably very busy; would it be possible for an appointment to be arranged with her please.

All best wishes,
Yours sincerely
Mike Smith

Dear Dr McNutt

Diagnoses

Bilateral chronic mucosal otitis media

Rhinitis with right sided septal deviation - underwent septoplasty in 2017

Management

List for removal of grommet right ear +/- fat plug myringoplasty

Continue Nasonex nasal spray

I caught up with Mrs McAteer in the ENT clinic today. She is still struggling with her ears. The left side remains blocked and the right side is continually discharging mucoid foul smelling discharge. She feels that her breathing in her right nostril is reduced again post septoplasty. She has gained little benefit also from the use of Nasonex nasal spray.

Examination of her ears today revealed healthy canal on the left side with a retracted pars tensa and pars flaccida and with fluid behind the tympanic membrane. On the right side there was evidence of a grommet remaining insitu. There was mucoid discharge coming through this which was suctioned clear. Anterior rhinoscopy revealed an anterior septal deflection to the right hand side narrowing the external nasal valve and reducing nasal airflow on cold spatula testing. Flexible nasendoscopy revealed rhinitic nasal mucosa. Examination of post nasal space was clear of any adenoidal enlargement but there was a mucus trail discharging from her left eustachian tube orifice. The right eustachian tube orifice was clear.

Mrs McAteer is in an unfortunate cycle whereby treating one symptom has led to an exacerbation of another. Her primary concern today was discharge from the right ear and so I think we should proceed with a grommet removal, following this the edges can be freshened and either some spongistan or a fat plug can be used to aid the healing process. We should see her in clinic again following this removal for an assessment of her symptoms. I am not sure that there is any straightforward treatment option but I wonder whether she may be a candidate for a eustachian tube dilatation in the future. I am not sure revision septoplasty would be of any great benefit if she did not feel the previous septoplasty improved her ear symptoms.

Dear Dr Gillespie

Diagnosis:

Bilateral glue ear plus retraction.

Nasal congestion.

Treatment:

Regular Nasonex nasal spray 2 puffs right plus left nose, once daily long term.

GP Action:

Please place on repeat prescription.

Follow up:

3 months with hearing test.

Mrs McAteer attends today with longstanding issues with congestion of her ears. She gets occasional discharge and tinnitus. There are no issues with vertigo. Her nose is blocked in addition. She is not using any sprays, she smokes 10 a day.

NHS Confidential: Personal data about a patient

Examination today shows a snotty nose and mucosa but a straight septum. Both tympanic membranes had small attic retractions with no evidence of significant debris collection. Unfortunately a hearing test had not been performed. I have given her a prescription for Nasonex and asked her to cut down on her smoking and we will see her back in 3 months.

Dear Dr Heath

Diagnosis:
Post op septoplasty December 2017.
Follow up:
On request.

Mrs McAteer attends following her septoplasty. Things have healed well. Her airway is improved but there is an element of valve collapse on sharp inspiration. As such I have suggested that she tries some Breathe Right strips. She can get these at the counter at the chemists. If these are failing to work and she has got ongoing problems we would be happy to see her again at your request. The next step would be an open approach septorhinoplasty and spreader grafts in all likelihood and as such involves a whole further degree of complexity. At this stage Mrs McAteer is not inclined to go down this line but remains an option in the future should her condition change.

Diagnosis: Right nasal deviation
Procedure: Septoplasty
Surgeon: Mr D Baring
Follow up: 3 months SJH

Ms McAteer attended with a history of nasal congestion particularly on the right side. She had a right septal deviation which was corrected with a septoplasty.

Post operatively she made a good recovery and was discharged the following day. I have asked her to use regular Nasonex until I review her again in 3 months, hopefully at which time things will be improved.

Please let me know if she runs into any problems.

Dear Dr Heath

Mrs McAteer's right grommet remains in situ and patent.

She complains of reduced middle ear ventilation in the left side with a middle ear effusion with a conductive component at the lower frequencies.

As you know she has previously received a hearing aid fitting and has found this to be helpful.

The main symptom of concern at the moment relates to right nasal obstruction and postnasal discharge.

Otological examination showed the right grommet to be in situ and patent. The left grommet has extruded and she has again developed an effusion.

Endoscopic examination of the nose and nasopharynx was normal apart from a right sided deviated nasal septum.

Mrs McAtter has already received a hearing aid fitting and has found this to be effective for help with auditory rehabilitation.

She is keen to achieve help with her nasal symptoms.

NHS Confidential: Personal data about a patient

I have scheduled her for a septoplasty.

I have given her advice on the procedure along with its potential benefits, limitations and risks.

In the meantime I have given her advice on continuing ear care.

Dear Dr Heath

Gillian was brought to the Otology Clinic for review. She currently has a discharging ear on the right side. As you know she uses hearing aids on both sides and when last seen a year ago the right grommet was in situ. I was unable to suction out her right ear canal which was full of debris as there was no functioning suctioning available in clinic. I prescribed Ciprofloxacin drops on the right side to be used for one week t.d.s. and we will see her back in clinic in 2 weeks time.

Her left ear canal and tympanic membrane were fine.

Kind regards.

Dear Dr Heath

Mrs McAteer's right grommet remains in situ and patent. The left grommet has now extruded. Audiometric testing today showed mild binaural sensorineural hearing loss.

Given her level of hearing loss and the fact she was troubled with binaural subjective tonal tinnitus I think she has reached a point where she would benefit from binaural hearing aid fitting for help with auditory rehabilitation and tinnitus management.

I have given her a copy of the Tinnitus Information Pack.

She will be seen for review in 6 months.

Dear Dr Heath

I reviewed Miss McAteer in the ENT Clinic today. She underwent a bilateral grommet insertion under the Medinet ENT Consultant in February 2015. She did benefit from the grommet insertion once the grommets were in but she now feels that her hearing has got worse.

Examination of both eardrums showed small central perforations, the grommet in the left side was lying in the ear canal embedded in wax.

I have explained to her that we should give time for tympanic membrane perforations to heal. I have arranged to review her back in 3 months and advised on water precaution and we will repeat her hearing test on arrival.

Thanking you.

Kind regards.

Diagnosis

1. Likely exacerbation of undiagnosed COPD

Treatment : already on doxycycline (started by GP OOH), given 5 days of prednisolone and new salbutamol inhaler

This lady was seen in EMA today with a dry cough, wheeze and breathlessness on exertion. She is a known heavy smoker. She had been seen by GP out of hours 48 hours previously and started on doxycycline but had not felt much better and had also developed worsening pain between her scapula.

She denied any haemoptysis or sputum. On examination she looked well and sats were 97% on room air. She was not hypoxic. CXR was unremarkable and bloods were OK including a D dimer (97). Her chest was clear when I saw her, but she had been wheezy when first admitted to EMA.

She was keen to get home and reassured by results. I have given her a 5 day course of prednisolone and a new salbutamol inhaler (hers had run out). She was discharged home with worsening advice, her GP has already requested spirometry.

Dear Dr Hay

GILLIAN MCATEER – (DOB 23.5.82)
92 STUART TERRACE, BATHGATE, EH48 1EG

Thank you for referring your patient to the Colposcopy Clinic where I saw her on 28.6.05. She attended on account of an abnormal cervical smear showing moderate dyskaryosis.

Colposcopic examination confirmed an area of epithelial abnormality within the transformation zone. I proceeded to remove this under local anaesthetic. She tolerated the procedure well. Subsequent to her attendance the pathology report has confirmed the presence of CIN 3 with no evidence of micro-invasive or invasive disease. A repeat smear will be carried out in six and twelve months time at the Colposcopy Clinic.

Yours sincerely

Dear Dr McNutt

DIAGNOSIS:

Blunt trauma uveitis.

VISUAL ACUITY: (unaided)

Right eye 6/9, improving to 6/6 with pinhole

Left eye 6/5

INTRAOCULAR PRESSURE: (Icare)

Right eye 11mmHg

OCULAR MEDICATION:

Dexamethasone 0.1%, 1 drop to the right eye 4 times a day for 1 week, then 3 times a day for 1 week, then twice a day for one week, then once a day for 1 week.

Cyclopentolate 1%, 1 drop to the right eye 3 times a day for 7 days.

FOLLOW UP:

In St Johns Hospital in 2-3 weeks.

COMMENT:

I saw this patient as part of my on-call with Dr Schmoll today.

She was attacked approximately 1 week ago and had significant bruising and swelling around her right eye which has now settled. However, since then she has had increasing pain, photophobia and hepiphora. She also feels her eye is red compared to the other eye and her vision is mildly reduced. She has no diplopia and no shadows or curtains suggestive of a retinal detachment.

On examination there is mild bruising and swelling still evident over the right eye and the conjunctiva of the right eye is injected. Both corneas appear clear. The anterior chamber of the right eye is deep with approximately 20 cells per high powered field and no hyphema or odious blood. Examination of the posterior reveals no commotio and no inflammation of the vitreous, no vitreous haemorrhage and I was unable to identify any breaks or tears, there was also no tobacco dust in the vitreous.

These findings are in keeping with a blunt trauma uveitis following her assault. Accordingly I have started her on a steroid reducing regime as above and dilating drops. She will be reviewed in St. Johns in approximately 2-3 weeks.

Yours sincerely

DR K WILSON

RE: GILLIAN MCATEER, 18 CHERRY AVENUE, BATHGATE. EH48 1NA
DOB/CHI 23/05/82 1425

Date & Venue:

7th November 2013.

Police Referral to Duty Consultant On-Call Dr Sarah Kennedy.

Background:

Gillian is currently using alcohol and speed daily and is in touch with alcohol support services in West Lothian and is awaiting as assessment for LEAP a residential addictions rehabilitation centre near the Astley Ainslie Hospital in Edinburgh. Her most likely date for admission should she agree for entrance in to the programme would be January 2014.

She has been staying with her mum under social works direction, she has three children and is unfit to look after them on her own. Last night her mother's female partner came home to find Gillian and her mum arguing, she was heavily intoxicated, mum's partner took Gillian home to stay with her overnight however a short time later the Police received a phone call from mum saying Gillian had sent a text message implying she would commit suicide. Gillian had been in police cells overnight and attended in the morning feeling incredibly remorseful and regretful. She denied any ongoing suicidality, seemed upbeat and positive regarding her up and coming appointment with LEAP. Her mum had already contacted social work to update them on the recent event. I have no other further recommendations from psychiatric services. I encouraged her to attend her appointment with LEAP on 20th November 2013.

Kind regards.

Dear Dr Holden

Re: Gillian McAteer, 50 Athol Terrace, Bathgate, EH48 3DF, D.O.B. 23/05/82

I write to inform you that I was asked to assess the above patient on 7th August 2013 in my capacity as On-call Psychiatric SHO along with Elaine Ross CPN.

Presenting Complaint

Suicidal ideation, attempt to end life by "buzzing" lighter gas.

History of Presenting Complaint

Gillian was assessed on ward 17, SJH, after being referred by A+E. She was accompanied by her sister and her niece.

Since Gillian's youngest girl was born 11 months ago, she describes increasing levels of stress. She appears to be struggling to cope with her life as a single mother of young children (she also has a 8 year old and a 10 year old). The past couple of nights they have been staying with Gillian's mother. Gillian appears to have been coping with her struggles by drinking vast amounts of alcohol and taking speed as well as caffeine tablets. This has been a long-term issue for her and although she did not take speed during her pregnancy, she did drink. She has been drinking up to 1L of vodka per day, plus cider. She uses ¼- ½ grams speed per week. She is aware that her habit has got out of control recently and wants to address this. She in fact was due to go to the drugs and alcohol clinic 2 days ago but did not go as she was worried that she would have to bring up past events that have been painful for her. She appears to have been mulling over these events more than usual recently.

She has had thoughts of wanting to end her life and it is with this in mind that she "buzzed" the lighter gas this morning. On closer questioning however, it appears that the intention may have been more to "numb" her feelings. She has tried buzzing before and although it "froze" her neck, she knew it wouldn't cause any serious harm. She told her sister about her thoughts, who brought her to A+E.

Gillian worries that she wants a "way out" of all of her troubles but did not state any specific plans to end her life. She was forward thinking in that she is keen to address her substance abuse issues and to get help in general.

Other current stressors, other than being a single mum, include having broken up with her partner during the last pregnancy, and an amount of debt which I suspect to be significant as she has spoken of wanting to declare herself bankrupt.

Past Psychiatric History

Was referred to mother and baby unit when last pregnant but didn't attend. Has taken an OD of paracetamol before her last pregnancy but did not seek help "I went off the rails". She has been treated by her GP with citalopram (previously fluoxetine) for post natal depression.

Past Medical History

Nil.

Drug History

- citalopram 20mg – not taken over past few days
- caffeine tablets

Family History

Gillian's brother has a history of BPAD. No other history of note.

Personal History

Gillian does not describe a happy childhood. She was abused sexually age 9 but did not go into details today. She was taken into care age 11 to 16 and felt like this was particularly difficult as she was the only one of her 4 siblings this happened to. She left age 16 and has since then been independent, "I always had my own place". She has 3 daughters of different fathers.

She normally works [REDACTED] but has been off sick for 2 months. Her mother and 2 sisters are very supportive and live nearby. Mum is currently looking after the 3 daughters. Social Work have been involved after Gillian called NHS 24 in crisis recently.

Mental State Examination

Appearance & Behaviour – overweight Caucasian woman, demonstrates evidence of self care. Wearing sunglasses throughout interview. Smells of EtOH. Engaged well. Tearful on occasion.

Speech – mild slur. Normal tone/rate/volume. Spontaneous and fluent.

Thoughts – NPTD. No delusions. Vague suicidal ideas, no formed plans. Forward thinking.

Mood – subjectively, low. Objectively, low, tearful, but reactive. Sleep – very little, due to speed and being woken up by baby. Appetite – reduced (on speed and caffeine tabs, and smokes). "Exhausted"

Cognitive function – not formally tested. Grossly adequate, orientated.

Insight – aware has alcohol / drug problem, keen to address it.

Risk to self through misadventure in context of EtOH and drugs.

Risk to children? – in care of her mother for foreseeable future.

Summary

Gillian is a 31 year old woman who presented with suicidal thoughts, having "buzzed" lighter gas this morning in an attempt to make her troubles go away / "numb" herself. This happened in the context of social stressors and chronic heavy alcohol and amphetamine use. There was no clear ongoing suicidal intent on assessment, rather a desire to escape her current worries. She was forward thinking in that she is keen to seek support to address her alcohol and drug issues, which she agrees, are the most urgent problem to address.

Diagnosis

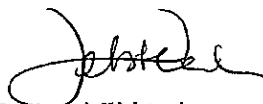

- Alcohol and amphetamine dependence
- Possible underlying ?depression / emotional instability / poor coping mechanisms

- Discharge with advice to attend the alcohol/drugs drop in centre – dates and times of availability given to her in form of a leaflet (these drop in clinics occur on a daily basis).
- Given contact details for Samaritans / breathing space.
- Advised not to cut alcohol intake abruptly.
- Out of hours emergency social work contacted to inform them of her presentation tonight with regards to her children.

Yours Sincerely

Dear Dr McNutt

Re: Gillian McAteer (23/5/82)

Many thanks for your referral of this lady who is currently not coping with her pregnancy. As our service is aimed at women with significant mental illness it would be helpful to know more than this about the patient's presentation before we can triage her case. Does she have biological symptoms of depression? Are there symptoms of other mental illness? What would you be hoping our service could offer her?

Many thanks, Fiona

Dear Dr. Heath,

Re: Gillian McAteer, 18 Cherry Avenue, Bathgate, West Lothian, EH48 1NA.
CHI: 2305821425

I write to provide you with an update on Gillian's current attendance in psychological therapy with regard to her mental health problems – please find the key points from our contact summarised below.

Gillian and I have spent the first half of our time using elements of Compassion Focussed Therapy (CFT) and Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT) to work on Gillian's low self-esteem, sleep problems and anxiety which resulted from her Mother not being emotionally available to her and the childhood sexual abuse she suffered. We continue to use elements of CBT to work on Gillian's low mood and sleep hygiene and Gillian has seen improvement in her motivation and mood.

We are currently using ideas and strategies from Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT) to inform work on Gillian's Trichotillomania and are around halfway through this approach. Gillian has made good progress in this area and is able to identify cues and triggers and has made use of the techniques of distraction to avoid any hair pulling.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me. I will be in touch as our sessions progress.

CLINICAL INFORMATION

Reason for Referral:	hearing difficulty/L posterior TM perforation
Main Referral Text:	I would be grateful if you could see this 32 year old female who has noticed that her hearing has deteriorated over the past 3-4 months. This had been apparent which she was attending an alcohol rehabilitation programme and she was examined by a doctor and found to have a perforated ear drum. She has reattended the surgery due to ongoing hearing difficulties and was concerned the perforation is not healing. She has no discharge and is otherwise well. She has no previous history of ear nose and throat problems.
On examination she has a small posterior perforation of the left tympanic membrane. The right tympanic membrane is normal. I would be grateful if you could arrange further assessment regarding her hearing and perforation.

Dear Dr. Heath,

Re: Gillian McAteer, 18 Cherry Avenue, Bathgate, West Lothian, EH48 1NA.
CHI: 2305821425

I write to inform you of Gillian's current attendance in psychological therapy with regard to her mental health problems – please find the key points from our contact summarised below.

Gillian was referred to the Psychological Therapies Service in early 2017 by Cyrenians with a view to psychological therapy addressing Gillian's trichotillomania, low mood, anxiety and history of complex trauma. I first met with Gillian in October 2017 and have met with her weekly since then. During our sessions, it has become clear that Gillian struggles with daily life activities, such as establishing routines; boundaries and managing her anxiety. Gillian experiences flashbacks and struggles with sleep as a result of childhood trauma which compounds her anxiety throughout the day. This impacts her ability to manage her mood and basic care skills.

Gillian is optimistic about her future but understands that she has a lot of work to undertake before she can accomplish her goals although she has been making movement in this area. Gillian reports a difficult family history relating to the childhood sexual abuse she suffered and has a very ambiguous relationship with her mother. Gillian has stated that her mother was not emotionally available to her when she was younger and she feels like the "black sheep" of the family. This continued rejection has reinforced Gillian's sense of low self worth and core beliefs of not being loveable. This also highlights the lack of social support that Gillian has and she relies on her support worker from the Cyrenians for a lot of encouragement and assistance.

Gillian reports experiencing a lot of strong emotions regarding her childhood trauma and cannot process these emotions without help. The self-loathing and self-blame that accompanies the recollections of the experiences again further highlight to Gillian her perceived lack of self worth. We are using compassion focussed elements in our therapy sessions to allow Gillian to explore her ability for self compassion and understand suffering in her own context and how she can deal with this appropriately in her everyday life. 31 year old admission with 'not coping'

Known to suffer from post natal depression, on citalopram

Struggling to cope at home, "with life" Patient quite upset, difficulty establishing a hx, however seems to be predominantly due to social issues. Px's sister has taken taken in children (aged 10, 8 years old and 11 months)

Multiple attempts to end life but 'not worked' for past several months last attempt this morning with 'buzz and kill' (inhaling spray insecticide)
 When asked if intentional pre-planned attempts, responded with "i don't know, i just keep trying and trying."
 After attempts she feels disappointed that attempts have been unsuccessful and tries again.
 Unable to say how often she attempts to end life
 Drinking large amounts of alcohol and illicit drug use
 Px and family keen for psych r/v

Social situation- normally lives with three children, however sister has taken children from last night. Sister quite supportive,

Plan - d/w Dr Kennedy (cons psych) - to have a psych r/v in ward 17.
 This patient has been admitted to St John's hospital and a further letter will follow.

Dear Dr Heath

OUR REF: MB/LWDATE TYPED: 29th September 2014

DIAGNOSIS

Mixed urinary incontinence

Thank you for referring this pleasant 32-year-old lady who attended today with mixed urinary incontinence for 2 years, since the birth of her last child. She has a mixture of both storage and stress incontinence but the storage is marginally worse than the stress. She informs me that she does suffer from nocturia once or twice per night and her flow is pretty good, though she has a feeling of incomplete emptying. She currently wears 4 pads per day.

She is para 3 with the last being a caesarean section. She has recently been on the alcoholic rehab programme and she is now actively trying to lose weight. She is, however, drinking between 3-4 litres fluid per day and I have suggested that she needs to reduce this. She is otherwise well and she is currently on Fluoxetine, which she has recently started. She denies any allergies. She is a housewife and smokes between 15-20 cigarettes per day.

I examined this lady, and was chaperoned by the staff nurse, today in clinic. This demonstrated an upper scar, which she informs she had as a child for bowel surgery. Abdominal examination was otherwise unremarkable. Pelvic/vaginal examination did not elicit stress urinary incontinence and the pelvic floor exercises were 3/5 on the Oxford scale.

I have given her a leaflet on pelvic floor exercises and informed her that I will formally refer her to the physiotherapists to improve her pelvic floor. In addition, I have asked her to complete a frequency volume chart and I will book her for standard urodynamics. I would be grateful if you could give her a trial of Vesicare (Solifenacin 5mg once per day) for the foreseeable future.

Yours sincerely
