Creating a stronger, greener, and healthier North West

We're on with delivering the biggest investment in your water services for more than 100 years. We wanted to let you know we're making great progress with much more to come where you live, and right across the North West between now and 2030.

We're now entering the second year of our five-year programme, which is investing more than £13 billion to upgrade and improve your water and wastewater services in every corner of the region.

This huge upgrade is building new infrastructure, improving water quality, replacing old water pipes, reducing leakage to its lowest-ever level and will see us protect over 500km of rivers and bathing waters. Our investment is set to reduce the use of storm overflows by 60% over the decade to 2030. This will help support our natural environment.

We need more great people to help us deliver this plan and we're proud to have created over 1,000 additional jobs in the past 12 months, based here in the North West, including welcoming hundreds of graduates and apprentices and supporting 30,000 jobs in total, providing great opportunities locally.

Investing in your area

Here's an overview of some of our key projects in Lancashire:

- We signed a £3 billion agreement to upgrade the 110km long Haweswater Aqueduct, which supplies 570 million litres of water every day to 2.5 million people across Greater Manchester and Lancashire.
- In 2025, we completed a £77 million upgrade to Burnley wastewater treatment works, helping improve water quality in the River Calder, which flows into the River Ribble. This initiative is part of a broader £330 million investment across Lancashire aimed at enhancing regional water quality.
- We also completed a £29 million upgrade to Leyland wastewater treatment works, improving water quality in the River Lostock. We've expanded stormwater storage at the site to reduce overflow spills during heavy rain.
- We've replaced around 30km of older water mains in Lancashire with new flexible pipes to help protect against bursts and reduce leaks. During the last 12 months we've invested £40 million to replace around 170km of mains across the North West.
